HOOVER GREETED IN CALIFORNIA; TO MAKE RADIO ADDRESS TONIGHT

Crowds Meet Train at Stations to Cheer Republican Nominee on His Way Home.

MAKES STOP AT SACRAMENTO

G. O. P. Vice-Chairman Issues Statement Predicting Candidate Will Get 375 to 400 Electoral Votes.

By the Associated Press.
HOOVER TRAIN, EN ROUTE TO PALO ALTO, Nov. 5.—Homebound bound to vote tomorrow, Herbert Hoover arrived in California today, his special train making its first stop at Roseville, where the Republican presidential candidate was greeted by a large crowd of his fellow Californians.

Under a revised schedule the nominee made brief stops at Sacramento, the State capital, and Stockton, which would delay his arrival at Palo Alto until 2 p. m. (4 p. m. St. Louis time) half an hour behind the original schedule. At Roseville Hoover was joined by Gov. C. C. Young and other leaders who accompanied him to the State Capital, Sacramento. There he received his second ovation.

To those who greeted him at Roseville he made a brief talk, saying that the real job now was before the country tomorrow. "There is plenty of political debate going on, so I don't want to engage in any more of it," he said. "Our job is before us tomorrow."

As the locomotives were being changed at Sacramento, Hoover appeared on the observation platform with Gov. Young, and was greeted by the cheering of several hundred persons who broke through the police lines. Gov. Young introduced Hoover, saying he did not know if a President of the United States had ever visited Sacramento, but that "we have the next best to the President with us today and that is the next President of the United States."

Urges All to Vote.
"You have to perform the greatest peace-time obligation that an American citizen holds to his country," he added. "That is to get to the polls and vote intelligently as each of your own individual consciences direct. Whatever the consequences of America determine that will be right."

"I deeply appreciate your welcome. It is good to get to one's home; to see one's old friends and, above all, I value the confidence which you have reposed in me. "I shall not make a political address, as my position on the principles and issues of the campaign are well known to you. You have arrived at your own convictions upon them."

Making his third rear-platform talk at Lehi, the nominee said: "You have given me a support in California that has carried great weight over the entire Union. The knowledge that California is with its own candidate has had tremendous importance."

Large baskets of flowers were placed aboard the train by Sacramento men and women party workers. Old Friends Greeted by Name.
As Hoover finished speaking the crowd called for Mrs. Hoover, and greeted her with lusty cheering as she appeared, smiling, on the platform.

It appeared to be a real homecoming for the candidate and his wife for several persons who welcomed them by the train. The couple were greeted by name by Mr. or Mrs. Hoover.

As the train rolled slowly away from the crowd, Mrs. Hoover called her son, Allen, from within the train to join them in waving goodbye.

ROTHSTEIN SHOT, FAILED TO PAY DEBT POLICE SURMISE

Called to New York Hotel They Think by Holders of IOUs in $200,000 Gambling Loss.

WOUNDED MAN REFUSES TO TALK

He Was Accused of "Fixing" 1919 World Series and Figured in Becker Murder Trial.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Seeking an explanation of the mysterious shooting of Arnold Rothstein, gambler and race track follower, police announced today they wanted to question George "Hump" McManus, reputed to be a Broadway card game operator. No charge has been placed against McManus, but police are hunting for him.

Rothstein, in a serious condition in Polyclinic Hospital with a bullet wound in his abdomen, gave the police no aid in their search for his assailants.

Detectives, however, said they had learned he was shot in a room of the Park Central Hotel alleged to have been occupied by McManus. Rothstein, they said, left a restaurant on Broadway near Fifth street and went to the hotel room in response to a telephone message a short time before the shooting.

It has been common Broadway gossip, police say, that Rothstein has been a marked man for some months and more recently because he had weighed on a large loss in a poker game.

Shortly before noon doctors announced that Rothstein's condition was "desperate" and that although still conscious, he was suffering great pain.

When he first collapsed and Detective Patrick Floyd leaned over him to ask the name of his assailant, Rothstein looked up at the detective, whom he had known for years, and placed a finger to his lips.

"You know me better than that, Paddy," he said.

Police investigation showed that the room in which it is thought Rothstein was shot, is on the first floor of the second floor of the Park Central.

Several persons, all supposed to be friends of the gambler, were apparently drinking in the room last night.

There were signs of sudden confusion. Bottles and glasses were strewn around. One man left so precipitately that he did not even take his hat.

Among the papers found was a list of apartments available for gambling at short notice, the names and telephone numbers of persons who could send gambling apparatus to such rooms in a hurry, the names of bodyguards available to escort large winners to their homes, and other names grouped as "prospects," "professionals" and others necessary to a "quiet game."

A creditors' meeting. Police said that telephone records showed a call from Rothstein to Lindy's Restaurant, 15 minutes before Rothstein was shot. Rothstein answered a call at the restaurant at exactly that time. Inspector Coughlin said that the detective bureau had established the identity of nearly every man in the room at the time of the shooting and also knew the object of the meeting.

ROY C. TOOMBS SURRENDERS HERE AND GIVES BOND

Charged With Larceny of $538,500 From International Life and With Overissuing Its Stock.

FURNISHES TOTAL OF $30,000 BAIL

Two Chicago Lawyers Accompanying Client Whose Extradition Has Been Sought Since July.

Roy C. Toombs, former president of the International Life Insurance Co., surrendered in St. Louis today at 2:25 p. m., to answer charges growing out of his removal of $538,500 of the assets of the company for which he has not accounted.

Toombs handed a prepared statement to newspaper men in which he said he had come to St. Louis as soon as his indictment as he could arrange his affairs in Chicago and asked the people of St. Louis to withhold judgment of him until after his trial.

"I am not guilty," the statement read. "When the facts are known certain St. Louis gentlemen will have considerable explaining to do if they are not to be held responsible for wrecking the International Life Insurance Co."

He was released under $10,000 bond on a charge of larceny of one specific batch of bonds totaling $538,500, and posted bonds of $5000 each on four charges of overissuing capital stock of the company which he used to negotiate loans.

The bonds were signed by William F. Pelikert of 2700 Lafayette avenue, who said that he could supply with $100,000 of real estate. He is a professional bondsman and there was soon discussion as to his fee.

Toombs, whose return to St. Louis has been sought since July, appeared in the office of Circuit Attorney Siderer, accompanied by M. L. Meleto, assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of the United States House of Representatives, who is an attorney in Chicago, and another attorney representing Frank R. Reid of Downers Grove, Ill., representative in Congress for the Eleventh Illinois District. Downers Grove is Toombs' home.

Toombs was taken before Circuit Judge Hartmann, where arrangements for bond and extradition were agreed to. He was to be taken to Chicago Friday by Edward G. Davidson, representing Siderer. Toombs surrendered there on that day under a bond given in Federal court in the bankruptcy of St. Louis. Toombs appeared in Federal Court and before Judge Frank R. Reid of Downers Grove, Ill., representative in Congress for the Eleventh Illinois District. Downers Grove is Toombs' home.

Toombs returned to Chicago by an afternoon train.

GANGSTER SHOT BY 'BROKER' IN CHICAGO FINANCIAL AREA

Leon Mongovan Probably Fatally Wounded as He Sits in Automobile.

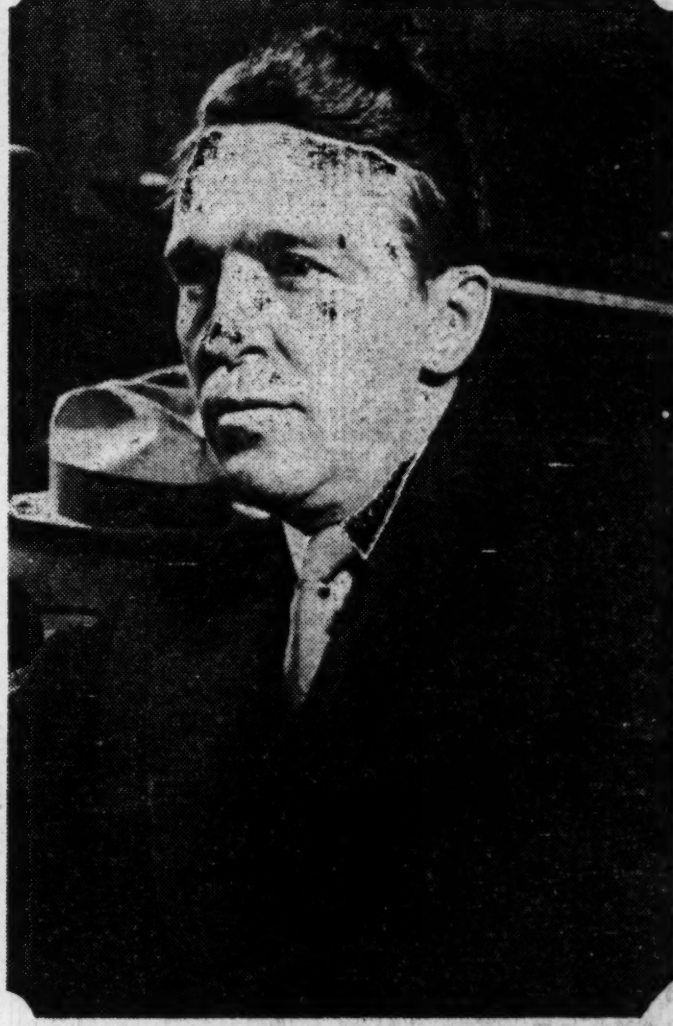

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Gangsters invaded La Salle street, the heart of Chicago's financial district, today, and Leon Mongovan, alleged broker, was shot three times as he sat in his automobile in front of the Rookery building.

Mongovan was taken to St. Luke's Hospital. Doctors said his wounds would prove fatal.

Arthur Cooper, who said he was a broker, was arrested. He said he met Mongovan and two other men in connection with an unexplained deal for $5000 between them. Cooper said he asked to be given a gun, which he then fired at Mongovan and his companions. Mongovan's companions, named by Cooper as Peter Gusenberg, alias P. J. Gorman, and Frank Foster, fled.

By the Associated Press.
CATANIA, Sicily, Nov. 5.—Mount Etna was again in violent eruption today, a new mouth opening at Montecati.

Large quantities of lava flowed in the direction of Nuziatat and part of the commune of Mascali. As a precautionary measure these regions were evacuated of their population by order of the local authorities.

Explosions in Karakatso Under Sea Shot Up Columns of Water.

BATAVIA, Java, Nov. 5.—The island volcano of Karakatso has become active again. One hundred and twelve distinct explosions were recorded yesterday. The eruptions were beneath the sea and threw up great volumes of water.

Karakatso, an island in the Sunda Straits between Sumatra and Java, had its most violent eruption in 1882 when two-thirds of the island was blown away. A gigantic wave formed and 20,000 persons were drowned. During 1925 the volcano was in eruption twice in January, and once in February, March and May.

A severe earthquake lasting four seconds was felt here Saturday night. Many buildings were shaken but no damage was reported.

TWO MEN KILLED IN AUTO BY TRAIN IN VENICE, ILL.

Rudy Gibson of St. Louis and John Dooling of Madison Struck at Market Street Crossing.

Two men were killed at 1 p. m. today when a coupe in which they were riding was struck by an inbound New York Central passenger train at the Market street crossing in Venice, Ill., near the east approach of the Merchants Bridge.

The men were identified as Rudy Gibson, 30 years old, of 1501 Market street, St. Louis, and John Dooling, 25, 116 State street, Madison, son of a barkeeper.

The automobile, driven by Gibson, was proceeding west on Market street toward North Venice, when it was struck by the train, hurled 40 feet and demolished.

The bodies of the men were taken to an undertaker's establishment at Madison, where an inquest will be held. The Market street crossing, which is not heavily used, has no gates, although a watchman is maintained there by three railroad men. The train crew said their signal was sounding as they approached the crossing.

COOLIDGE WILL JOURNEY TO NORTHAMPTON TO VOTE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—President and Mrs. Coolidge will leave Washington this evening for Northampton, Mass., to cast their ballots in the general election tomorrow.

Mr. Coolidge's present plans call for a stay in Northampton only long enough to vote and to visit Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, Mrs. Coolidge's mother, who is still very ill in a hospital there. He expects to return to the White House tomorrow night. Election returns will be received on the train by radio.

Four years ago, when the chief executive was a candidate for the presidency, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge voted by mail. A journey to their voting residence was taken, however, two years later, when the President cast his vote personally for William M. Butler, who had managed his campaign in 1924, for the United States senatorship from Massachusetts.

SMITH IN LAST SPEECH MAY GIVE PLAN TO CHOOSE A CABINET, IF ELECTED

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Gov. Smith's closing radio address tonight, occupying the hour between 9 and 10 p. m., will conclude his campaign for the presidency. The closing address is expected to be entirely different in character from others which he has made during the campaign.

The Governor is aware that the voters of the country are curious to know how he would go about choosing a Cabinet, in the event of his election. Accordingly, it would not be surprising if he should describe the method he has employed in appointing high State officers in New York.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Gov. Alfred E. Smith, speaking over a national radio hookup from a local broadcasting studio, today made a brief final appeal for the farmer vote in tomorrow's presidential election.

He compared his own proposals with those of his opponent, reminding his hearers of the seven-year record of the Republicans on that issue, and declared that agriculture's only hope of salvation from present conditions lies in the election of the Democratic ticket.

It is agreed by Herbert Hoover and himself that the problem exists, he said, but they are in disagreement as to how it should be solved, and as to which political party should be entrusted with the solution.

Assails Promises of G. O. P.
"I want you to judge the future by the past," he continued. "The Republicans have been in power for seven and a half years. As Mr. Hoover said at St. Louis Friday night, they have 'been alive' in the situation. You will agree with me that they did nothing effective about it; that the promises of 1920 and 1924 were not kept, and that the situation is worse today than it was when they came into power in 1921. So when Mr. Hoover said Friday night that he would esteem it an honor to have the privilege of solving the agricultural problem, it is only fair for me to say that he has had an opportunity to achieve that honor during the last four years, when he was the chief agricultural adviser of the administration, but that he took no advantage of it."

He said there was no disagreement between Hoover and himself upon the necessity of developing inland waterways, but, he added, if the farm population is compelled to wait upon that development for relief, "there will be very little farm population left to be relieved."

Nor, he went on, was there any difference of opinion between the parties on the necessity of maintaining a tariff on crops that are imported—although he asked why, if additional duties of that character are needed, the Republicans had not previously provided them. Alluding to Hoover's promise of

SMITH ASSERTS INDICATIONS POINT TO HIS ELECTION

After Conference With Raskob, He Grows Firmer in Conviction of Democratic Victory.

PRaises ROBINSON FOR ASSISTANCE

Informers Reporters He Feels "All Right" About Outcome, but Makes No Forecasts on States.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Gov. Smith today telegraphed his appreciation to his running mate, Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, for the work he has done in the campaign and predicted that "we go together to victory tomorrow." The Democratic presidential nominee added that the "people do not err" and that in the "last analysis their decision will be right."

The Governor's message to Robinson, who has carried the Democratic standard into 34 States read:

"At the close of the campaign, let me express my deep gratitude and appreciation of your splendid work. It has been a notable achievement. I knew when you were nominated that I would receive from you every co-operation and the kind of loyal, intelligent effort that brings victory."

"Together we have laid before the people the fundamental issues of this campaign. The people do not err. In the last analysis their decision will be right and we go together to victory tomorrow."

"Regards to Mrs. Robinson from Mrs. Smith, all the family and myself."

No forecasts as to States. Smith feels "all right" about the outcome of tomorrow's presidential election, but is making no predictions as to what states will be found in his or the opposition columns.

The Democratic presidential nominee made this clear today in his last press conference before election.

"How do you feel about it, Governor?" was the first question put to him in his suite at Hotel Biltmore.

"I feel all right about it," was the quick response.

"Are you glad it's over?" was the next query.

"Well," the Governor replied, "it's been a long, hard job. The traveling and speechmaking isn't easy. I feel a little relieved that I have the job done. I feel satisfied with the campaign that I made."

Asked what states he "conceded" the Republicans, if any, the nominee replied that he was "making no predictions about that," and added:

"I have been making the speeches. We'll let the figures and statisticians give you that information. I'm unable to do it."

The nominee said he had made no plans to visit the East Side as has been his custom in past state campaigns.

To Vote in Stationary Store. Gov. Smith and his wife, who accompanied him throughout his more than 11,000 miles of touring of the country for the Democratic cause, will cast their votes in a stationary store on Forty-eighth street near Madison avenue, at noon tomorrow.

The United States children who are eligible to vote will go to the polls at other points in this city and in Albany.

The Governor had not definitely decided today just where he would watch the returns come in, but it is expected he will surround himself with members of his family and receive the figures in his suite at Hotel Biltmore.

The Democratic nominee grew firmer in his conviction that "something is in the air," and that that something spelled victory for himself and his running mate, Senator Joseph T. Robinson. After a conference at his hotel late yesterday with John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, the Governor issued a statement in which he said:

"I just had a two-hour conference with the chairman of the Democratic National Committee. The reports and advice in his possession clearly indicate a Democratic victory on Tuesday."

After this meeting, the Governor worked late on his two radio addresses, but took time enough to put in an appearance on a lower floor of his hotel at a dinner given by Raskob to the 45 members of the cast which has been giving radio presentations of the play, "Up From the City Streets."

Tells of Early Greetings. Twenty newsmen from the Newsboys' Home in this city are members of the cast and they welcomed the nominee by singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

After posing for a photograph with the youngsters and telling them, "Now, Up and at 'Em," the Governor made a short speech in which he thanked the players for the part they had played in his fight for the presidency. He said he had listened in on the play from

"Nothing is ever done in this world that is done right that is lost," he said, adding that he had spent the best six weeks of his life in "going around this country and meeting the countless hundreds of thousands of people who, by the way they greeted me, showed what I have referred to as an affection."

"And that is something for a man to store up in his memory about his own country," he said.

Introduced to Newsboys. About 20 years ago, he said, he was introduced at the Newsboys' Home as a member of the New York Assembly, but had made only a slight impression.

"A few years later I came back and was introduced to them as the Sheriff," he continued. "Well, they had been looking at the movies and reading some Wild West stories, and certainly had some prominent place in their idea of public officials, because I remember the day I was introduced as Sheriff. I got a loud cheer in comparison with that which they were willing to give to an Assemblyman."

Later when he returned as Governor accompanied by three or four men in uniform he had made an impression.

"The word was passed around that I was the head of all the soldiers and sailors the State maintained," he declared, "and I think that made a real hit."

NO POLITICAL SIGNS AT POLLS
George Elgel, chairman of the Election Board, has requested that all signs advertising candidates for office be removed from polling places before tomorrow.

According to law no such signs may be within 100 feet of a polling place on election day.

SLAIN IN GEORGIA BY MAN HE CALLED SMITH SUPPORTER

Pro-Hoover Judge Shot to Death by Deputy Sheriff at Jessup—Slayer Stabbed in Fight.

By the Associated Press.
JESUP, Ga., Nov. 5.—A joking remark of one Hoover supporter that another was a Smith man, precipitated the fatal shooting Saturday night of Municipal Judge James R. Thomas by G. W. Madray, a deputy sheriff, who was stabbed four times during the fight.

Thomas was said to have jokingly remarked when Madray's name was mentioned during the selection of election managers "we are getting too many Al Smith men as managers." At the time Madray paid no attention, but when the men met later on the street he challenged the judge.

"I understand you said I am an Al Smith man," Madray charged the judge, who denied it. The men came to grips and Madray knocked Thomas down twice.

Witnesses told police that a knife flashed during the fight, and then two shots were fired. Both men have been active supporters of the Hoover-Curtis ticket.

Text of Gov. Smith's Appeal By Radio to Farmers to Give Support to Democratic Ticket

Only Satisfactory Solution of Farm Problem Must be Based on Control of Sale of Exportable Surplus, He Says.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Following is the text of Gov. Smith's radio talk today to the farmers of the country, delivered at 11:30 a. m., St. Louis time:

"I welcome this opportunity in closing the campaign to speak briefly to the men and women in the great farming sections of the country."

"Both parties are agreed that the farmer and the stock raiser have not shared in the country's prosperity and are in dire distress today. Both parties have agreed that the solution of the agricultural problem is one of the most important duties and responsibilities of the next administration. But Mr. Hoover and I have been in disagreement as to the way in which the farmer's problem should be solved and as to the party which should be entrusted with its solution."

"I believe that I can fairly say to the farmers of this country and to their families that this campaign has shown that the salvation of agriculture in this country today depends upon Democratic success, and I am going to summarize my reasons for this belief."

Judge Future by the Past.
"First, I want you to judge the future by the past."

"The Republicans have been in power for seven and a half years. As Mr. Hoover said last Friday night, they have been alive to the situation of agriculture. I know that they have tried to do it, but they did nothing effective about it; that the promises made in 1920 and in 1924 have never been kept, and that the agricultural situation is worse today than when the Republicans came into office in 1921. So when Mr. Hoover said last Friday night he would esteem it an honor to have the privilege of solving the agricultural problem, I can fairly say that he has had an opportunity to achieve that honor for the last four years as the agricultural adviser to the administration, but he took no advantage of it."

"He referred to the farmers' failure to agree as to what they want. I need hardly remind you that there was sufficient agreement between the farmers and the agricultural West in its desire for the restoration of Democratic Government. I believe that tomorrow will bring a great Democratic victory, and I assure you that victory will bring a solution of the agricultural problem that will restore prosperity to the farm, and promote the welfare of the entire country."

Reads From Text.
In delivering his farm appeal, Gov. Smith read from text for the first time since his acceptance speech. It took less than 15 minutes to broadcast the address which, if delivered extemporaneously, would have consumed half an hour or more.

The nominee faced only a few hundred people as he made the next to last speech of his campaign in a studio at Carnegie Hall.

In a statement before going on the air Gov. Smith said that election day this year would see "the largest vote in the history of the United States," and he added his belief that radio was vitally responsible. The radio, he said, had taken politics into every American home and had changed "the typical political speech from a collection of high-sounding phrases and choice bits of bunk to a clear, logical argument."

The Governor also thought radio was destined to play an important part in bringing about harmonious relations with foreign nations.

Step Toward World Peace.
"Recently I noticed in the newspapers," he said, "that plans are being made to exchange radio programs between the United States and England, France and Germany. When we as a nation listen to a concert played in France and when France listens to one of our famous radio orchestras, the bonds of international friendship cannot but be made stronger. Music does not make for hatred or distrust and I believe that the encouragement of this exchange of music between nations is a long step toward world peace."

Next Reason Why the Desire for Self-Preservation Should Lead the Farmer and the Farmer's Wife to Vote for Me on Tuesday is the utter hopelessness of anything that the Republican party or Mr. Hoover has had to say in this campaign with respect to farm relief.

"Let us begin with the Republican platform itself. I am sure that there is no one listening to my voice who will not agree that Gov. Lowden of Illinois is one of the greatest authorities on the farm problems and one of the best friends of the farmer in this country today. He has been a lifelong and loyal Republican. When the Republican platform was adopted at Kansas City, I remind you that Gov. Lowden said of it:

"I have urged that it is the duty of the Republican party to find some way to restore agriculture from the ruin that threatens it. That, in my judgment, the convention by the platform just adopted has failed to do, and I therefore, authorize the withdrawal of my name from this convention."

Cites Senator Norris' Stand.
"Can you think of any reason why a farmer or a farmer's wife should vote for a candidate who stands upon a platform repudiated by a member of the party itself, who is a leader in the fight for agricultural relief? And I remind you of Senator Norris' brave and courageous stand for the principles of farm relief, which have led him, as a leader in the battle for your behalf, to leave his own party and enlist himself and his great talents in behalf of my election, because he regards the policies for which I stand as the surest guarantee of relief to you; and I ask you to recall all the state and local farm leaders who have sided with this problem in your behalf, who agree with Gov. Lowden and Senator Norris as to the utter hopelessness of any expectation of relief from the Republican party."

Reviews Campaign Discussion.
"Let me spend just a few minutes in reviewing what has been said about agricultural relief during this campaign; and I will take first the things we agree on."

"First, inland waterways; there is no disagreement on that, but I think you will agree with me that if the farm population of this country has to wait for relief until a system of inland waterways is developed, there will be very little farm population relieved."

"Second, tariff on import crops. We are all agreed on that. The Democratic party has promised the farmer, and I have promised the farmer, full protective duties on all import crops on an absolute equality with industry upon all agricultural products that are imported."

"I do pause, however, to ask why, if higher duties are necessary, the Republicans have not given during the last seven and a half years."

"No, I am not giving the farmer who raises the port crops full tariff protection, but you know and I know that that standing alone has never solved the problem, and that when the Republicans have argued about it they have simply been trying to get your minds away from the real principle of farm relief, about which I shall presently speak and upon which they are directly opposed to your interest and your economic salvation."

"Then Mr. Hoover talks about stabilization corporations. "One word about these stabilization corporations, which Mr. Hoover is willing to lend money. Our commodity prices are not made in America. In this very St. Louis speech Mr. Hoover says that they are made abroad. You passed upon the principle of the control of the exportable surplus. You certainly do not think he is going to sign a bill, whether it is passed at a special session or a regular session, based upon that principle."

"And at the last minute in his St. Louis speech Mr. Hoover talked about calling an extra session of Congress. An extra session for what? Under his advice, the President of the United States States vetoed farm relief measures which were twice passed by a Republican Congress. He had nothing to offer in place of it. What has Mr. Hoover got to offer in place of it today? If he is true to what he has always said, he would certainly veto any bill passed upon the principle of the control of the exportable surplus. 000 POLL WATCHERS
CHICAGO TOMORROW

atest Number in City's Hisy—To Prevent Repetition of Primary Day Violence.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—To prevent a repetition of the fraud, violence and terrorism which marked the primary, 13,000 poll watchers will guard the ballot boxes here tomorrow. The largest array of poll day watchers in the city's history has been enrolled despite confidence prediction that election would be free from fraud.

The violence of last primary day,
Nov. 3, has been followed by a series of investigations by special police, whose work is yet unfinished. One murder, conspiracy and other outbreaks caused injuries against 20 alleged participants.

Tomorrow special courts will be in session to hear fresh evidence in all cases of irregular voting, bribe tactics or irregularities
of any sort.

County Judge Jarecki's court opened immediately after the close of the primary, in the city hall, "throughout the far into Wednesday," Judge Jarecki, however, said he was confident tomorrow's balloting would be free.

Thousands of watchers have been enrolled by the Citizens' Non-Partisan Association. A city policeman will guard each polling place, and 200 of them, will be stationed in automobiles. From Chicago Bar Association there are 500 watchers. Special police and 600 university students will be stationed wherever needed.

There is but one answer you possibly give, and that is an answer you, if you are true to your own convictions, if you are to your own interests and the best of your family, to follow the lead of Senator Morris and the Democratic ticket tomorrow.

It is the duty to vote the Democratic ticket, not only on your own interest, but on your loyalty
to your homes and your families.
The nation of prosperity to the land is not a mere material thing.
It is the love of the home and the life of the farm, a lightness of the burden upon the women of the agricultural community, the peace of the children, in short, the conscience of the traditional, American life; happy, prosperous, fruitful, and the foundation of our prosperity.

In closing let me give you
word of cheer and confidence.
Every section of this country
I have had reports forecasting a great Democratic victory.
Industrial East joins with the rural West in its desire for restoration of Democratic government. I believe that tomorrow winning a great Democratic victory I assure you that that will in turn bring a solution to the agricultural problem that threatens prosperity to the farm and the welfare of the country."

RADIO SHUT OFF AT THE TRIAL OF OBREGON SLAYER

Judge Requests Mexican Newspapers to Quit Printing Pictures or Comment on Proceedings.

DEFENSE ACCUSED OF OF AROUSING REVOLT

Prosecutor Asks Court to Stop Further Use of Hearing as Means of Spreading Propaganda.

By the Associated Press.
SAN ANGELO, Mexico, Nov. 5.— Radio broadcasting of the trial of Jose de Leon Toral, assassin of President-elect Obregon, and Mother Concepcion, his alleged accomplice, was abandoned with resumption of the trial today.

The microphone which had been on the Judge's desk and had been placed by De Leon Toral in front of himself on several occasions,
was ordered removed by court authorities, who also requested the newspapers to cease publishing photographs of or comment on the trial. No explanation of these orders was given.

The court also announced that in the future the newspapers will not get the official stenographic reports. Thus far throughout the trial the Mexican newspapers have been devoting great space to it, and tremendous public interest had been aroused.

Correa Nieto, the prosecutor, in the course of remarks to the court, said "the defense has taken advantage of this trial to spread sedition propaganda, and to aid the cause of rebellion," he said, adding that he had named four assistant prosecutors to oppose this. He also asked the Judge to prevent the trial being used further as a medium for spreading what he termed seditious propaganda.

After the prosecutor's remarks Mother Concepcion was called to the stand.

In her testimony Mother Con-cepcion denied that before the assessment she had any knowledge of De Leon Toral's intentions. She denied she had influenced him to commit the crime or that she had any domination over him, declaring that if she had had any kind of influence over De Leon Toral it was purely financial.

Proceeding her innocence, she said she had no witnesses, but at the same time the prosecution had witnesses against her. Then she added that, although innocent, she was willing to go to jail "if it is God's will."

Requesting permission for Mother Concepcion to sit while testifying, her defense attorneys told the court that she was "gravely ill."

In the course of her testimony
Mother Concepcion said that De Leon Toral had been influenced by assassin Gen. Obregon by the sufferings of Mexico and not through her influence. She said that remarks she had made to De Leon Toral that the death of President Calles or Gen. Obregon would settle the religious question, had been made often in Mexico.

"When I read in the newspapers that De Leon Toral had done it it seemed incredible," she declared.

Mother Concepcion answered the Judge's questions in an energetic manner.

"I opened the doors of my house to the public promptly only by my duty and charity," she said. "My house was exclusively one of charity. It was the headquarters of all the religious collections made to my house there charity people who planned to defend the church in a manner other than that, it was merely a casual circumstance."

The prosecutor stated that the Government was not persecuting any church or religion but was only trying to enforce the law which allows all persons to exercise the faith that they please.

"All except Catholics," the witness interjected. "Just because I am a Catholic nun, I am here today."

Prosecutor Nieto exhibited to the court an iron brand with the cross and letters "I. H. E." with which Mother Concepcion was stated to have said she had branded her arms. To this Mother Concepcion objected that she had told Nieto of the brand under the plea that it would not be used, but that he nevertheless wrote it into the court records.

YOUTH WHO STRANGLED GIRL TO PLEAD INSANITY

Attorney of Vincent Rice Indicates Line of Defense After Slayer Is Indicted.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Vincent
T. Rice, 17-year-old former high-school athlete, was indicted by the Richmond County grand jury today on a charge of first degree murder for strangling Alice Joost, 15-year-old Staten Island school-girl.

Rice has confessed, according to police, that he choked the girl to death with an electric light cord because he was angered by her embrace.

The girl's body was found Friday night in her home in Port Richmond, Staten Island, when her widowed mother came home from work.

Insanity will be the defense, his attorney indicated.

matic plea in the District Court at San Angel yesterday for the acquittal of Abbess Maria Concepcion Acedo y de la Lata, who is on trial with him.

Madre Conchita, as the Mother Superior is called, faces 20 years imprisonment, if she is convicted on the charge of inspiring Toral to kill Obregon.

The young artist who shot Obregon
at a dinner declared himself ready to face a firing squad. He swore that he alone knew of his plan to kill Obregon.

"If I did myself," he said in his plea, "it is because I want justice administered. But I've always considered myself as a dead man since the day of the murder. Even though I am shot down, I expect I shall be, I'll at least have the moral satisfaction of having spoken the truth and having done
all in my power to obtain justice."

Plea of Nun's Counsel.

"You've just said you were a dead man," broke in Gabriel Gay Fernandez, counsel for the Abbess.
"As a man standing on the brink of his tomb I exhorted you to tell us bearing in mind that you are speaking to the whole nation and to the world, what is Madre Conchita's responsibility in the assessment of Gen. Obregon?"

Toral drew himself up and said to the jury: "None whatsoever.
This I have said since the beginning. I was alone in my plans to assassinate Gen. Obregon. When I told President Calles that I worked alone I considered that I had only a few more hours to live." Toral declared the nun's remarks to him that the religious question could be settled only by the deaths of Calles and Obregon had no influence upon him.

HOOPER NEARING HOME, CONFIDENT OF G. O. P. VICTORY

Republican standard bearer appeared to have laid his cares aside, and yesterday enjoyed his first full day of relaxation in many months.
He spent much of the day in his private car reading, and at the points along the line where he crossed large crowds his manner indicated a freedom from concern over political matters.

Talks With Miner About Tariff.

He chatted informally with people who crowded around the rear platform of his car, remarking on the "gorgeous weather" which he encountered in Utah, and inquiring about the population and the industries of the communities. At one stop on the edge of the Nevada mining region, however, his interest was diverted to the tariff by a blue-shirted miner, who remarked,
"Mr. Hoover, there's a lot of people in this country who would like to keep that tariff on lead, and we would like to get a higher one on silver if we could."

"Well, I hope we'll get it," the candidate responded with a broad smile.

At several of the towns along his route through Southeastern Utah cheering crowds met his train at the station and called him to the rear platform. Following his rule against political talks on Sunday,
the candidate addressed them briefly, thanking them for the cordiality of the welcome and explaining his feeling against the discussion of politics on Sunday.

Crowd at Salt Lake City Station.

The greatest crowd of the day had assembled at the station at Salt Lake City. As the train drew to a stop, the throng swept the police lines aside and jammed its way to the platform.

A group of Utah party leaders got aboard and traveled with Hoover to Ogden. Among them were Carl R. Marcusen, State chairman; Ernest Bamberger, Republican candidate for United States Senator; W. H. Watts, Republican candidate for Governor, and Harold P. Fabian, national committee man for Utah.

Hoover's day in Utah began early. At Helper, where his train halted to take on a second engine for its pull over the mountains, he went to the platform of his car to greet the crowds of several hundred people who had risen with the sun to welcome him. They would not be satisfied until Mrs.
Hoover, too, had appeared on the platform.

His only political reference of the day was an indirect one made at Ogden when he said, "We have only one thing before us, and that is next Tuesday."

"And we should worry about that, Herbie," yelled a man in the crowd.

R. E. Williams' Estimate of Result.

The confidence of the candidate in victory was reflected by the other members of his party. Ralph E. Williams of Portland, Ore., vice chairman of the Republican National Committee, issued a statement saying that his observation led him to think that Hoover would receive a total electoral vote of between 275 and 400.

"My survey in the last four weeks," Williams said, "shows that if the people in the country and small towns go to the polls, Mr.
Hoover will carry the election by the Western, Midwestern and Middle Atlantic states alone, with an electoral vote of at least 500 against the necessary 266."

"From other sources of information I am confident he will secure an additional 200 electoral votes from other states I have not surveyed, and his total electoral vote will be between 275 and 400 out of the 531 in the electoral college."

Williams said that more than

Near Eighteenth.

The body of the woman who was killed at 8 o'clock last night when she was struck by an automobile while attempting to cross Franklin avenue between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets was identified
this afternoon as that of Mrs.
Bertha Rochow, 54 years old, 1021
North Nineteenth street. Identification was made by her husband, William Rochow, who read about the accident in the newspapers.

Mrs. Rochow suffered a fractured skull. The machine, a Ford sedan occupied by two Negroes, was driven from the scene.

Her death brought the number of motor vehicle fatalities in St.
Louis since Jan. 1 to 160 as compared with 111 at this date last year.

Police are searching for the driver of a new Ford coupe, who fled after striking Michael Fried-ling, proprietor of a rooming house
at 510 Elm street, in front of 5612
South Broadway, last night.

Henry Senz, 41 years old, a stationary engineer, of 622 East
Fourth street, Alton, Ill., was killed
Saturday night, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Joseph Cusumano, 1425 North Tenth street, St. Louis, on the highway near Wood River, Ill.

He died instantly of a broken neck. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

Miss Ruth Brennon, 5027 St.
Louis avenue, suffered fractured ribs and internal injuries last night when an automobile in which she was riding with Lawrence Murphy, 5027 Spaulding avenue, and the latter's sister, Bernice, was struck from the rear by a machine driven by James House of Overland, on Kingshighway near Wells avenue.
The collision occurred when Murphy stopped to avoid striking another machine making a turn in the street.

William Baum, 14 6222 Chamberlain avenue, suffered internal injuries last night when he was struck by a machine at Kingsland and Clemens avenues, University City.

The left foot of Leonard La
Berge, a shoemaker, of St.
Charles, was so badly crushed in an automobile collision caused by glaring headlights on the St.

day that it had to be amputated
at a St. Charles hospital.

ing in the opposite direction at a point about a mile east of the Missouri River. Two of the girls in Mahon's machine, Miss Mabel Kline and Miss Viola Arens, both of St. Charles, were cut and bruised. Three men occupying the other machine escaped injury.

200 votes would come from Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Colorado, Nevada, Arizona, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

"Advices also show," he added,
"that the drift toward Hoover in Wisconsin, Maryland and North Carolina will carry him over these states, making a total of 238, without any consideration of the states where I have personally made no survey, but which should give an additional 75 to 100 electoral votes."

TWO BRIDES FOUND BEATEN TO DEATH WITH AUTO TOOL

Boys, Hunting Pecans, Discover Bodies of Mrs. Bessie Lynch and Mrs. Cleo Lieto Near Dallas, Tex.

By the Associated Press.
DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 5.—Dual theories of robbery or revenge of jealous suitors confronted police today in seeking a solution of the murders of Mrs. Bessie Lynch, 21 years old, and Mrs. Cleo Lieto, 19, estranged brides, in a broom corn field at the edge of Dallas early Sunday morning.

A man, whose name was not distinguished by police was held for questioning, but the authorities indicated he was arrested simply for the information he might be able to give regarding friends of the women.

The skulls of both women, whose bodies were found yesterday afternoon by boys hunting pecans, had been crushed by an automobile tool. Mrs. Lieto's throat had been cut. Both women apparently had been dead 19 or 25 hours.

Automobile Tracks Leading to and away from the bodies indicated the slayers had brought their victims to the isolated spot, and murdered them after a struggle, which the scene indicated.

Bluffed purses, empty of everything of value save a check from a candy firm for which both worked,
strengthened the theory of robbery.
Police think robbers may have kidnaped and slain the women after driving their escorts, if any,
from the scene. No jewelry was found on either body.

Mrs. Lynch, according to her mother, separated from her husband some time ago, while Mrs.
Lieto's husband, also reported estranged, is in Houston, his wife's former home.

Former Admirer Arrested.

The man under arrest is a former admirer of Mrs. Lynch. According to her mother, Mrs. W. O.
Winn, Mrs. Winn told police her daughter had known the man for several years. She said he met another of Mrs. Lynch's admirers recently, and a fight ensued. Mrs.
Winn said she met the man downtown Saturday, and he inquired about her daughter's address, and he was going to see her that night.

Friends of Mrs. Lynch disclosed, however, that the two victims had accompanied them to a suburban dance Saturday night, but that the dance had been postponed, and the party returned to the city. The police learned the two women left their escorts and friends and said they were going to a dance at the labor temple. That is the last seen of them as far as police have determined.

A man, who was reported to have threatened Mrs. Lynch's life, was sought by detectives.

Heard Screams in Night.

Mrs. Beulah Richardson, who lives about 200 yards from the spot where the bodies were found, told officers that shortly after midnight she heard an automobile pass her house and that a few minutes later she heard screams. About 20 minutes later she heard the automobile pass her house again on its way back to the main highway.

A check on the movements of the man held virtually eliminate him as a suspect, officers said today. His statements that he saw the women at a dance but did not see them afterward were corroborated by numerous other persons,
some of whom took him home.

Terhune Telephones Sister In St. Louis From Berlin

Zeppelin Stowaway Guest at Musical Play in German Capital—Intends to Return to United States in Few Days.

By CLARENCE TERHUNE.
(Copyright, 1928.)
BERLIN, Nov. 5.—I got my biggest thrill yesterday since I stowed away a week ago in the mail bags
on the Graf Zeppelin at Lakehurst.
I got a telephone call from my sister, Mrs. Edna Hall, from St. Louis.
Opera in New York. It was a relief to get to Germany traveling by the fastest passenger service in the world, it took only five minutes to get my sister in St. Louis. It was one of those events which give a fellow an awful thrill.

While it took me three days to get to Germany traveling by the fastest passenger service in the
world, it took only five minutes to
get my sister in St. Louis. It was one of those events which give a
fellow an awful thrill.

I decided to obey America's request that I return to America at once. I probably sail in two or three days, possibly on the Leviathan, as I prefer to ride on an American boat, if possible.

Guest at Show.

Last night I was the guest at a performance of a musical play called Casanova, having been invited by the show's star, Michael Bohnen and his wife, Mary Lewis, who sings at the Metropolitan Opera in New York. It was a beautiful show and something like the shows Ziegfeld produces back home
—lots of beautiful girls and music and pretty stage displays and settings.

I had many callers yesterday in my rooms at the Adlon Hotel, most of them calling me the "blind passenger," which is the German name for stowaways. Over here they say I was the highest paid dishwasher in the world. For washing dishes three days aboard the Graf Zeppelin, I got this trip here, something which cost the regular passengers $2000. That made my wages really $800 a day. I never expect to receive such high pay again in my life.

I had an enjoyable ride about Berlin and saw historical and interesting points. I got a great kick out of seeing the Kaiser's old palace and they even pointed out holes made by bullets when machine guns were fired at the building during the revolution.

Sees Hindenburg's Home.

It was interesting to get a look at President Hindenburg's official home. In front of this place two soldiers stand guard in two-hour shifts. While on their posts they are not permitted to move a muscle except to shift their guns from one hand to the other every half hour.

I was entertained at dinner at the home of a prominent American. It was surely good to have some old-fashioned roast beef and gravy and baked potatoes and carrots mixed with peas, etc., just like we get in the United States. It was the first real homelike meal I have had since leaving Rye, N. Y.

I guess I have been asked to taste about 25 different kinds of wine and liquors since coming here, and while I tasted them, I can't seem to like any of that stuff. I also have been offered a lot of cigarettes and cigars, but I do not like them either.

Youth Puts Business Future in Hands of Family Adviser.

Clarence Terhune chatted with his St. Louis relatives during a six-minute telephone conversation which cost $112.60. The connection was made at the Warwick Hotel through Frank E. McCambridge, head of the Middle States Bond and Investment Co. and a close friend of the family, who has volunteered to act as business adviser.

Terhune's half-sister, Mrs. Edna Hall of 2922 North Union boulevard, and her husband, George N.
Hall, a grocery salesman, called on McCambridge for advice last week
when the 19-year-old stowaway called his half-sister to have her self appointed his guardian to "sign his contracts."

Saturday night McCambridge placed a call for Terhune at Friedrichshafen, where the Zeppelin plant is located, but Terhune was not there. He was found at the Adlon Hall in Berlin yesterday morning.

"Is that you, Clarence?" Mrs.
Hall opened the conversation, and the surprised youth replied, "Why, hello, Edna."

Hall and McCambridge took turns at the telephone to explain that the investment broker would act as his business adviser if he had no objection. The youth agreed, stating he had signed no contracts. He announced he would leave Europe Wednesday morning aboard the Majestic, which should arrive in New York on Nov. 13.
The Halls and McCambridge will meet him there to discuss his future plans.

Terhune indicated he had some money, probably received in payment for his first-person newspaper stories, but asked McCambridge to cable him passage money,
which the broker agreed to do.
McCambridge told reporters he was prompted by friendship for the youth and had no desire to exploit the young adventurer for his own profit. "If he makes money and he wants to give me a present, I will have no objection," he said.
"I only want to protect his interests."

W. C. T. U. PRAYS FOR DEFEAT OF GOV. SMITH

Clergymen Speak for Hoover in 4-Hour Meeting
at Church.

A four-hour service of sermons,
prayer and the singing of hymns
was held today at the Union Methodist Episcopal Church, 3610 Delmar boulevard, as part of the nation-wide day of prayer and fasting set aside by the Women's Christian Temperance Union for the defeat of Gov. Smith and the election of Herbert Hoover.

About 100 women and a half dozen men attended the meeting, which opened at 11 o'clock with a prayer by the Rev. John L. Watson. He urged his audience in praying to have faith that their prayers would be fulfilled.

"A lot of us have been praying for a long time for prohibition,"
he said. "We prayed for a solution of the problem in the eighteenth amendment, and we thought we had it, but now it is all up for discussion. Let us pray now for the defeat of the wet candidate and the election of Herbert Hoover."

After an hour of prayer and singing, several women in the audience arose and led the congregation in further appeals to the Deity for the defeat of Gov. Smith.
"Give us prohibition all over the face of the earth," said one. "Lead Thy people to vote for a man who stands for prohibition."

The Rev. Alex Asher of the City Gospel Mission was the second clergyman to address the gathering and lead it in prayer.

"Recently some people came to me and asked me how to vote," he said. "I told them to go down to the dives and the saloons and look around and then vote against the man whose picture they saw there.
The thing we need to pray for is that God will give Herbert Hoover
a good stiff backbone to enforce the prohibition law. It is already God's will that he be elected."

Other pastors announced as participants in the speaking and prayers were: The Rev. William H. Pinkerton of Kingshighway
Christian Church, the Rev. Robert
R. Biggar of the Cota Brillante
Presbyterian Church, the Rev.
Clarence E. Lamm of the Hamilton Avenue Christian Church, the Rev. George E. Whittier, of the Epworth M. E. Church, the Rev.
Dawson C. Bryan of the Lafayette Park Methodist Church, the Rev.
James N. Broadhead of the Shaw Avenue M. E. Church, the Rev.
Oliver H. Duggins of the Wagner Place Methodist Church and the Rev. James J. LeClere of the Third United Presbyterian Church.

BODIES RECOVERED FROM PLANE WRECK

Letters in Pockets Identify Tucker and Collyer of Lost "Yankee Doodle."

PRESCOTT, Ariz., Nov. 5.—The bodies of Capt. C. B. D. Collyer, pilot, and Harry Tucker, owner, of the "Yankee Doodle," crashed into a canyon wall near here, were brought into Prescott today. Letters in their pockets established their identity.

Nothing was left to salvage, for hardly enough remained to identify the Lockheed-Vega, which crashed into the side of Crock Canyon, 23 miles south of here, Saturday night at a terrific clip.

Collyer and Tucker apparently died instantly, though there was evidence they made a last moment effort to use their parachutes. Their parachutes were open, but landing flares had been released, leading to the supposition they sought nearly to the end to bring the "Yankee Doodle" down.

In the face of unfavorable weather reports, the craft took off from Mines Field, Los Angeles, at 2:29 p. m. Saturday on an attempted nonstop flight to New York, which the owner announced also was to be an attempt to lower the "Yankee Doodle's" record of 18 hours, 58 minutes for the eastward passage. Urgent business in New York was given by the owner for the sudden departure.

For almost an hour Saturday night, as the last flight of the "Yankee Doodle" had been pined to together by the stories of observers, the famous airplane and pilot batted despite a failing motor to clear the 8000-foot peaks of the Bradshaw Mountains. At 7:59 o'clock its knocking, sputtering motor had been heard eight miles south of Prescott.

Circled Narrow Valley.

Some time later the plane circled four times a narrow valley in which the lights of a half dozen miners' cabins twinkled through the rain and mist. The steady drizzle of rain deflected Collyer's attempt to find a landing place.

As the last circle was made, the plane was only a few hundred feet off the ground. Then Collyer apparently determined to make a last attempt to force his plane over the mountain.

The ship carried 490 gallons of gasoline at the takeoff, which exploded as it smashed into the cliff. The "Yankee Doodle's" eastward record was made Aug. 29 with Art Goebel, famed Pacific flyer, at the controls. An average pace of 140 miles an hour was maintained.

After being forced down by gasoline shortage near Prescott while trying for a westward record in the Transcontinental Air Derby, the ship was returned to New York and on Oct. 23, 10 days ago, Collyer brought it through to Mines Field in 24 hours, 52 minutes, cutting two hours from the existing westward record. Tucker, a Santa Monica capitalist and sportsman, rode with his ship each time.

With John Moore as his partner, Collyer set a new record for a trip around the world in 23 days, 15 hours, 21 minutes, completing the journey at New York in July of this year. Collyer, a former airmail pilot, piloted a plane along much of the route to set the record. He was president of the Aviation Service Corporation of New York, organized "to do unusual things in aviation."

The commission has ordered the holding company to produce its records and has issued summons to J. K. Newman of New York, one of the reorganizers of the street railway property and head of the holding company, and Col. A. T. Perkins, vice president of the holding company, to appear as witnesses. The city of St. Louis and a group of stockholders are opposing the application.

Reward in Burning of Woman.

LAKE BLUFF, Ill., Nov. 5.—Refusing to accept the young woman's own story, county officials today authorized the payment of $1000 reward for the arrest on conviction of the slayers of Elfrida Knaak, 30-year-old book agent and school teacher, who was fatally burned in the furnace of the Lake Bluff village hall last week. The young woman said she herself inflicted the burns which proved fatal "to purify her love and prove her faith" for Charles Hitchcock, Lake Bluff policeman, actor and teacher.

WORK CLAIMS 400 ELECTORAL VOTES; RASKOB CONFIDENT

G. O. P. Chairman Bases
Forecast of Hoover Victory on Reports From All States.

By the Associated Press.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 5.—Dr. Hubert Work of Colorado, chairman of the Republican National Committee, in a statement issued here last night predicted that Herbert Hoover will receive 400 electoral votes in Tuesday's election.

"Reports at Republican headquarters during the last week from national committee members and state chairmen warrant the prediction that Hoover will receive 400 electoral votes on Tuesday next," Dr. Work said.

"Colorado is evidently safe for the Republican ticket with a majority of 50,000 and upward."

"The election given Mr. Hoover in Pueblo Saturday night was of the greatest significance. Approximately 20,000 people heard his address of an earnest, substantial type, indicating, I take it, the class of people who are interested in Mr. Hoover's election, not only in Colorado but elsewhere."

"Perhaps no presidential candidate heretofore has given as able address on differing issues as Mr. Hoover has in this campaign and his audiences everywhere have been tremendous."

Dr. Work will return to his home today to cast his ballot on election day.

Raskob Foresees Greatest Democratic Victory in History.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman, declared last night that he had "an abiding faith that the common sense of the American people will prevail and that Gov. Smith will receive an avalanche of votes that will spell the greatest victory in the history of our country."

"Due to the loyalty, patriotism, energy and generosity of thousands of earnest men and women in every one of the 48 states, we have been able to accomplish wonders in getting before the electorate the purposes of the Democratic party," he said in a statement summing up the Democratic campaign.

"On all issues the Democrats under Gov. Smith have taken a position in accordance with the spirit both of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. I am satisfied that the great intelligent American electorate will march on election day on the road of progress with Gov. Smith."

Says Moses' Attack Has Unified Democrats in West.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 5.—Fred W. Johnson, chairman of the Western Regional Headquarters, Democratic National Committee, issued a statement here yesterday saying that the "action of Senator Moses, Eastern campaign manager for Mr. Hoover, in mailing scurrilous literature for publication in Kentucky, attacking Gov. Alfred E. Smith because of his religious faith, has served to aid in unifying and bringing together the Democracy of the West."

"We have sensed one reaction to the Republican propaganda so far as these Western states are concerned," Chairman Johnson declared. "It is this—if any one thing aided in unifying and bringing together the Democracy of the West it is the nature of the campaign conducted by the destructive critics which the Republican party used on the stump."

"Gov. Smith says that 'victory is in the air,'" Johnson concluded. "When the votes are counted Tuesday, Gov. Smith will find that victory for him was in the ballot boxes of the nation."

Curtis Declares It Will Be a Landslide for Hoover.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 5.—Tired but confident, Senator Curtis came home yesterday from his long and strenuous Republican vice presidential campaign to cast a vote and await the verdict.

His right hand in a sling and his voice almost gone, Curtis waved to old-time friends as he passed through town on his way to the family home. The sling protected a finger injured in an automobile door several weeks ago.

"It's going to be a landslide," Curtis confidently predicted in a statement of his views. "I have been from Maine to Idaho, back and forth and up and down the nation. Interest in the election has been tremendous everywhere. This is as true with the women as with the men this year. The enthusiasm and interest of the crowds, their attention to the discussion of issues and their eager manifestations in behalf of the Republican ticket can mean but one thing—an overwhelming Republican victory. I have never seen such interest and such activity. Every one of the hundred meetings I addressed displayed this same enthusiasm. The Maine landslide was a true prophecy."

Henry J. Allen Predicts Hoover Will Carry Two Southern States.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The Republican National Committee in a statement issued last night through Henry J. Allen, Republican director of publicity, said that indications were that Herbert Hoover would poll the largest vote ever given a Republican candidate for the presidency.

The prediction also was made that Mr. Hoover would poll the largest popular vote in history.

"In addition to sweeping the West and Middle West," the statement said, "he is sure to carry the big Eastern states, including New York—whose upstate vote will exceed the city by over 200,000. He will carry the border states and break the Democratic stranglehold on two, if not four, of the states of the solid South."

Work Urges Workers to Get Voters to Polls Early.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—In a telegram to the Republican National Committee here, Chairman Work today urged Republican workers to get voters to the polls early, "to insure the greatest popular vote ever given to a presidential nominee."

"Reports to Republican headquarters during last week from national committee members and state chairmen warrant the prediction of 400 Republican electoral votes for Hoover and Curtis on Tuesday," Dr. Work wired from his home in Pueblo, Colo. "The largest registration in the history of the country will congest the polling places, and many may be prevented from casting their ballots late in the day."

"The greatest activity among precinct workers is important in a vote-early campaign."

one of the party shot him and all of them ran from the room.

Police ascertained that the room in which the shooting presumably occurred had been engaged by "George Richards" of Newark for Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The bullet entered his abdomen on the right side, took a downward course and penetrated his bladder. He was suffering from internal hemorrhages when received at the hospital and calls were sent out for professional blood donors, doctors thinking a transfusion was his only hope. They were unable to locate the bullet in the first attempt.

First knowledge of the shooting, which occurred about 10:45 o'clock last night, came when Rothstein walked into the lobby of the Park Central Hotel and asked that a taxicab be called for him. Noting that he was wounded, hotel attendants called an ambulance and a doctor and notified police.

Rothstein first came into prominence at the trial of Charles Becker, Police Lieutenant, who was convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, gambler, and executed in Sing Sing prison. Rothstein and several other well-known gamblers were questioned at the same time, defense attorneys charging that Becker had been framed by certain gambling interests which they said were responsible for the killing.

Suggestions that Rothstein "fixed" the world's series of 1919 took definite form when he was charged by Ben Johnson, then president of the American League, with paying $10,000 for stolen confessions of indicted Chicago White Sox players.

He was indicted in 1924 by a Federal grand jury on a charge of being an accomplice in concealment of a high-priced automobile of E. M. Fuller, head of the bankrupt brokerage firm of E. M. Fuller & Co. Fuller testified that he had lost $251,500 to Rothstein in the gambling business. Rothstein would devote his time to his home in a race track, a realty development, brokerage business and several other lines.

He was first an office boy in his father's cotton goods business and later was known as a pool player.

RADIOLA 18

Radiola 18—the "wonder box" of radio—is unquestionably the most popular type of broadcast receiver.

It was a sensation when it was introduced. It revolutionized radio set design. It made battery-operation obsolete in wired homes.

It was the pioneer in the use of the wonderful alternating-current Radiotrons—the vacuum tubes that have made possible simplified operation from the house current.

Many leading manufacturers of quality radio instruments are now building receivers of the "18" type—but there is only one Radiola 18.

And only the combined resources of RCA, General Electric and Westinghouse could produce so fine an instrument at so low a price.

Any RCA Radiola Dealer will demonstrate this Radiola in your home. Purchase may be made on the convenient RCA Time Payment Plan.

KILLED IN BAR FIGHT AFTER ROW OVER $3

J. R. Walker, Fireman, Shot by Proprietor in East St. Louis Resort.

J. R. Walker, 34 years old, a locomotive fireman, 317 South Eighth street, East St. Louis, was shot and killed last night in a whisky and beer resort at 512 (rear) South Main street, East St. Louis, by the proprietor, Harvey Jacobs, who accidentally shot himself in the hand. Both Walker and Jacobs were intoxicated, according to a half dozen men and women who were in the place.

An argument over a $3 beer bill preceded the shooting, but was not the direct cause of it, Jacobs said. "I asked Walker about the $3 and he promised to pay," Jacobs said. "Then he stood on a table and began singing. A woman with him also created a disturbance. I threatened to put them out and Walker dared me to. I was putting the woman out when Walker jumped on me from behind and threw me to the floor. He was stooping over me when I pulled my automatic pistol and shot him." Jacobs shot Walker twice in the abdomen and then fired a third shot which inflicted a flesh wound in his own hand. Walker staggered out into an alley and died. Jacobs fled, but later surrendered to police and had his wounded hand treated.

C. L. Butler, employed in the resort, corroborated Jacobs' story except he said both Walker and Jacobs were on their feet when the shots were fired. Walker was not armed.

Allen Bovinett, brother-in-law of Walker, was in the place, but ran out before the shots were fired. He said Jacobs forced Walker into a corner and demanded the $3 at the point of a pistol.

Police arrested six persons for questioning and seized a jug of whisky.

NEW HAMPSHIRE OFFICIAL DENIES HE EMBEZZLED $134

Secretary of State Pillsbury Pleads Not Guilty to Charge of Diverting Funds to Own Use.

RESIGNS HIS POSITION; FREE ON $3000 BOND

Says He Will Reimburse Treasury for Any Amount Which May Be Fixed for "Extra Election Help."

By the Associated Press. CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 5.—Secretary of State Hobart Pillsbury pleaded not guilty when arraigned in Police Court today on a charge of embezzlement of State funds. Pillsbury was arrested this morning on a warrant charging that he diverted $134 of State funds to his own use.

After Judge William L. Stevens continued the case until Nov. 19, Pillsbury furnished bail of $3000. Gov. Huntley N. Spaulding said today that although he had received the Secretary of State's resignation, he would not accept it until Wednesday, in order that there might be no legal difficulties in connection with the election tomorrow.

The amount involved was put at $134 in a warrant sworn to by Attorney-General Jeremy R. Aldrich and Herbert W. Rainey, solicitor for Merrimack County, but the actual discrepancy was said to be nearer $1600.

Pillsbury, prominent for years in Republican politics and superintendent of a Sunday School in Manchester, announced he would resign also as chairman of the Republican City Committee.

At least part of the alleged defalcation concerned "extra election help," expense vouchers said to have been drawn in favor of "A. C. Weller." Mrs. Pillsbury, County Commissioner in Hillsborough County, who has received considerable publicity through her charges of unethical conduct on the part of her associates, and who is a candidate for re-election, was before her marriage, Miss Augusta O. Weller.

In a statement issued after he had conferred with Gov. Spaulding, Pillsbury declared he would reimburse the State with interest for any amount which might be determined.

"I am bonded in the sum of $10,000 and the alleged discrepancies are probably one-tenth of that amount, so the State will lose nothing," he said.

"In regard to the pay checks alleged to have been issued to Mrs. Pillsbury, she never received a cent of the State money. I am satisfied that she never heard of the matter until Saturday."

"I told the Governor that I am ready to resign upon his word. I accept full responsibility for everything done in the Secretary of State's Department."

It was understood that Mrs. Pillsbury had been personally exonerated from any connection with the affairs of her husband's department and would continue in the contest for County Commissioner.

MASSACHUSETTS MOTOR LIABILITY RATE RULING

Supreme Court Holds That Schedule for Coming Year Must be Issued.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 5.—Underwriters covering personal injury risks for Massachusetts motor car owners under the terms of the Bay State's compulsory automobile insurance law won a partial victory in their Supreme Court fight of intention or non-intention to put into effect the substantial, 1929 rate increases proposed by former Insurance Commissioner Wesley E. Monk before the latter's resignation, under fire, Sept. 1.

By decision of the Supreme Court's full bench, an order must be issued establishing motor car insurance rates for the coming year. The Supreme Court's same decision, however, refuses to compel acceptance of former Commissioner Monk's 17 per cent average rate-raising plan of two months ago, but grants discretion in choosing between three measures—the Monk increases, the 1928 rates unaltered, or a new rate schedule of later devising.

ORVILLE WRIGHT TO BE HONOR GUEST AT AVIATION MEETING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Orville Wright of Dayton, O., pioneer of American aviation, yesterday was designated by Assistant Secretary MacCracken of Commerce to be the "guest of honor" of the International Civil Aeronautics conference in Washington next December.

Wright, a member of the American delegation to the conference, won the honor of being the first man to fly a power-driven heavier-than-air craft and for his pioneering aviation work with his brother, the late Wilbur Wright.

The conference was proposed by President Coolidge as a fitting observance of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the first flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C., of an airplane by the Wright brothers.

SMITH'S POLICIES 'A REAL THREAT,' MELLON DECLARES

Secretary Asserts Governor's Election Would Endanger Confidence and Business Stability.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Secretary Mellon urged the election of Herbert Hoover to the presidency in a statement here yesterday in which he termed it "indisputable" that the country is enjoying real prosperity.

The Treasury head asked the country to go to the polls and to vote for carrying on the policies of President Coolidge. He expressed the opinion that Hoover had a "much firmer grasp and a more comprehensive understanding of the nation's business and problems than are enjoyed by Gov. Smith."

His statement follows: "The campaign is drawing to a close, and the voters of the nation are faced with a serious responsibility. As we go to the polls Tuesday let us lay aside all feeling of bitterness and prejudice engendered by a heated campaign. Let us think only in terms of the real issues, and cast our ballots in accordance with our calm, considered judgment as to what is best for the country and for the people who compose it.

"Prosperity indisputable." "It is indisputable that the country is enjoying a period of genuine prosperity and well-being, to which the policies of the present administration have made a substantial contribution. The Government at Washington has been conducted on a high standard, whether judged by the test of administrative efficiency or soundness of policy, both in the domestic and foreign field.

"If the people are satisfied with the kind and quality of government they have had—and I believe they are—they should ensure a continuance of its benefits by retaining the services of those who have made good. When conditions are satisfactory, there is nothing more disturbing and damaging than a change of management or of policy.

"This is all the more true when the alternative policies offered by the opposition are of doubtful wisdom and carry with them a real threat to confidence and business stability. I do not believe we should substitute a competitive for a protective tariff. I do not believe that the Government should go into business of buying and selling agricultural commodities or fixing their price, or undertake to operate public utilities, such as power plants and distribution systems.

Against "Albany" Policy. "Nor am I satisfied to see adopted the financial policies that have prevailed at Albany in place of the prudent management that has existed in Washington under President Coolidge. It is not a question of choice between two roads of equal availability; it is a question of choosing the right road or the wrong.

"Finally, the campaign has demonstrated that, by reason of his broader experience, training and knowledge, and his closer contact with national affairs, Mr. Hoover has a much firmer grasp and a more comprehensive understanding of the nation's business and problems than are enjoyed by Gov. Smith.

"We have the opportunity, by electing Mr. Hoover, to carry on the policies of President Coolidge. Let us take advantage of that opportunity and make sure that the high standards that have characterized his administration of the Federal Government will be maintained and further developed.

IDENTIFIED AS BANK ROBBER, BUSINESS MAN ENDS HIS LIFE

Owner of Springfield, Mo., Cleaning Shop Alleged to Held Up

Pennsboro Bank.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 5.—Bryant W. Baty, 40 years old, proprietor of a clothes cleaning establishment here, died in a Springfield hospital Saturday night from the effect of poison he had swallowed following his arrest and identification as the man who had held up and robbed the Bank of Pennsboro in Pennsboro, 35 miles northwest of here, last Thursday.

Baty was identified as the robber by Truman Allison, assistant cashier, who was the only person beside the robber in the bank when the robbery occurred. The dead man is survived by his widow and two daughters. Both of the latter are in school here. Neither they nor friends can account for the man's acts. Business associates said that so far as they know his business was in good condition. Before entering the cleaning business, Baty had been a salesman for a wholesale clothing and drygoods house here for several years, and was known widely throughout Southwest Missouri.

FALL SAYS HOOVER WILL WIN

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 5.—Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, predicted here yesterday that Herbert Hoover will be elected President. Fall added he had taken no part whatever in the campaign.

The former secretary has been recuperating at his home here for the past several months. He said, in regard to his health, "I am just getting along."

Poultry is producing Big Profits in the Southland

In that part of the Central South from the Ohio River to the Gulf served by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, the last five years have witnessed a poultry development which is simply wonderful. In counties where, three or four years ago, there were only small flocks of poultry, usually of mixed and nondescript birds, there are today large flocks, carefully bred, selected for their value as layers, or for the production of broilers and fliers.

The market for both poultry and eggs has been extended, regular shipments being made to points as far away as New York City, and to the West Indies. In county after county, the annual returns from poultry and eggs sold and shipped to outside points amount to several hundred thousand dollars, there being carload movements of eggs as well as regular carload movements of poultry. Farmers and farmers' wives now understand better than ever the value of poultry raising, and the importance of careful selection and care of the flocks.

Louisville & Nashville farm representatives, under the supervision of the Immigration & Industrial Department, have been active in developing this business. Their work has been directly with the families of farmers and with farm organizations; they have steadily pointed out the value of high-grade poultry of distinct breeds and of the production and shipment of high-quality eggs; they have pointed out the value of proper feeding and of sanitary houses and surroundings for the flocks; helped in solving the problems of combatting disease and of weeding out undesirable members of the flock; and have given their advice and assistance as to shipping and marketing in carload movements.

The L. & N. is desirous of cooperating in every possible way in the advancement of this important industry.

POINCARÉ AGREES TO LET BANKERS FIX REPARATIONS

Premier Alters Stand by Giving Up Idea of Naming Government Officials to Commission.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—Efforts of the allied Governments to couch in identical terms their replies to Germany's note on the constitution of a committee to discuss revision of the Dawes plan for reparation payments, occupied a busy day here. The fact that it was Sunday failed to halt the activities of the statesmen and diplomats who have been engaged in the negotiations for the last week.

Premier Poincaré conferred with the Belgian and Japanese Ambassadors and at various times since Saturday noon he also has talked with S. Parker Gilbert, the American who is Agent General for Reparations; Signor Pirelli of Italy; Ambassador von Hoesch of Germany; and Sir William Tyrrell, British Ambassador.

Despite attempts to keep proceedings in the closest secrecy, it is understood that a compromise has been reached concerning the interpretation of "independent" as applied to members of the committee, on which the French and German viewpoints had been reported at variance.

Poincaré is said to have yielded to the extent of abandoning his idea of appointing Government functionaries to the committee although he is understood to be adamant in providing the experts with instructions on the minimum demands of France, below which they would be unable to treat or bind the French Government. This position is said to be acceptable to the others.

The names of those who will constitute the committee have not been officially announced, but it is regarded as virtually certain that they will be Gov. Emile Moreau of the Bank of France; Emil Franqui, former Belgian Finance Minister and stabilizer of the Belgian franc; and Sir Josiah Stamp, British statistician and economist who has made a special study of reparations. Signor Pirelli has already been appointed by Premier Mussolini as the Italian member.

FRENCH DEMANDS CHIEF OBSTACLE

By ARNO BOSCH FLEUROT, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—The 100,000,000 francs spent by France in reconstructing the regions devastated by the war now looms as the chief obstacle in the path of final settlement of the reparations problem. S. Parker Gilbert Jr., Agent-General for Reparations, who is trying to bring Germany and her creditors into agreement on terms for definite settlement of her war obligations, learned this from conversations with Premier Poincaré.

Having lined up France, Great Britain and Belgium on the principles underlying the final settlement, if its terms can be arranged in detail, he got further support for the proposed program through the Italian financier, Pirelli, a member of the Dawes Committee of Experts, who came here from London.

Object to Unlimited Powers. All the governments concerned are willing to make a final settlement and form a new committee of experts for the purpose of determining its terms, but are not yet ready to give that committee more than limited powers to recommend what settlement they consider possible.

France would prefer a committee of experts comprising most of the economists who served on the original Dawes committee, and the name of Sir Josiah Stamp has been advanced here as chairman of the committee. The French would not stand out against German experts, including Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, if the committee is composed of men of the character of Owen D. Young and Sir Josiah Stamp.

Principal Question Involved. While the discussions between Gilbert and members of the governments concerned have revolved mainly around the formation of the committee of economists and "independent technicians," the question of how the cost of rebuilding the devastated regions of France is to be included in the reparations total is in reality the principal question involved in these discussions.

"It has been figured that if Germany made a settlement which would provide funds to pay off the French, British, Italian and Belgian war debts to the United States, this would amount, figured at 5 per cent, to 27,000,000,000 marks (approximately $6,500,000,000). But Belgium stands out for 6,000,000,000 more marks to cover liquidation of Belgian francs issued by the Germans during the German occupation of Belgium. And France wants 15,000,000,000 marks—100,000,000,000 francs—for reconstruction.

tal, would be freed of most of her load of debt and no other European powers with a huge national debt could compete with her. Settlement on this basis—a total of 48,000,000,000 marks—is far beyond the German idea of what Germany can pay, however, so no understanding on that basis seems possible yet. For the moment Gilbert will be content if he can induce the governments involved to agree on the personnel of the committee of experts.

'MIND EXPERT' ADMITS FRAUDS IN 100 CITIES

"Psychoanalyst" Addressed Clubs, "Analyzed" Business Men and Cashed Checks.

By the Associated Press.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 5.—"Dr." John Barnes, self-styled psychoanalyst and mystic, confessed here Saturday, according to police, to a five-year career of swindling said by detectives to have victimized more than 100 business men in as many cities. Detectives said the "doctor," a slight, well-dressed man of 44, told them his method was to visit a city, introduce himself as a skilled psychoanalyst, speak before civic clubs, "analyze" a number of influential business men and later return with checks or drafts he wished cashed. The drafts, police said, usually were fraudulent.

Police said requests for further information had been wired departments in 20 or more cities. He was held at the station for further investigation.

Police learned he had visited Jackson, Miss., and Nashville, Tenn., last week and "examined" a number of business men there. Among other cities the detectives said Barnes named were Louisville, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, Dallas, Chicago and St. Louis. They said he confessed to having defrauded former "clients" in each of these.

BRECKINRIDGE LONG COMES BACK TO ST. LOUIS TO VOTE

Says There Is No Doubt in Minds of Democratic Leaders That Smith Will Win.
Breckinridge Long, who was Assistant Secretary of State in the Wilson administration, has returned from Washington to St. Louis to vote, confident of Democratic victory. He maintains a voting residence at 5155 Lindell boulevard.

"At the time I left Democratic headquarters in New York, where I was in charge of the radio department, there was a belief, amounting to a conviction, that the Democrats would win," Long said.

"Information coming into the headquarters from all sections of the country was uniform in the prediction, hope and belief of Democratic victory. There is no doubt in the mind of the party leaders that Gov. Smith is going to be elected."

COMMUNIST GIRLS ADAPT 'RED' SIGNET WEDDING RING

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MOSCOW, Nov. 5.—Communist girls, longing for something more than a two-minute marriage registration ceremony to become the lawful wives of their chosen love, have invented a "red" signet wedding ring for husband and wife to wear.

It is to be a symbol of marriage. The ring is a plain band of gray iron. The seal is the soviet emblem of a crossed hammer and sickle with the addition of an engraved portrait of Lenin in the center.

Violent opposition to the ring, and wedding rings of all kinds, has arisen. The subject is being debated in Comsomol (young communist) meetings. Opponents declare that wedding rings are petty bourgeois ornaments, a symbol of slavery and barbarism.

CLARENCE SAUNDERS DIVORCED
By the Associated Press.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Carolyn W. Saunders obtained a divorce in Circuit Court today from Clarence Saunders, chain store operator.

Dressed in black, Mrs. Saunders took the witness stand and declared that "it would be impossible for me to continue to live with Mr. Saunders." Mrs. Saunders alleged in her petition, filed Sept. 26, that Saunders on several occasions flew into a rage and that he told her once he was "tired of being married to plaintiff anyhow, and was going to put an end to it."

CURTIS TO CLOSE CAMPAIGN WITH TOPEKA SPEECH TONIGHT

Nominee Will Carry Out His Usual Custom of Giving Last Word to Home Folks.

By the Associated Press.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 5.—Senator Curtis, the Republican vice presidential nominee, will deliver his closing speech in Topeka tonight, carrying out one of his political traditions which in each campaign in more than a third of a century has brought him here for a final word to his home folks on the eve of the election. He will speak about 8:30 p. m. at a mass meeting in the city auditorium.

The Senator plans to vote early tomorrow morning in his precinct, and before the polls close he will board a train for Washington to take up senatorial business delayed by the campaign. Although arrangements have been made by the railroad company to have election returns placed at his disposal along the route, he does not expect to receive any reports until his arrival in Chicago Wednesday morning.

The Senator has gone to bed early every election night since he entered politics, except in 1892, he related. That was the year he was first elected to Congress from the old Fourth Kansas District.

Senator Curtis will be accompanied to Washington by Sanford Jarrell, representative of the Republican National Committee.

"If I'm asleep early," he told Jarrell, "don't wake me up, no matter what happens." The nominee's speech tonight will be broadcast over Radio Station WIBW. Gov. Paulen and other State officials will be seated on the platform.

CONVICTS USE INSULATED LADDER TO FLEE FROM PRISON

By the Associated Press.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 5.—Officers and bloodhounds were following a trail through the swamps bordering the Cumberland River today in a search for three convicts, serving long sentences, who scaled the Tennessee penitentiary walls and cleared high voltage wires early last night in escaping.

The prisoners, who used a specially insulated ladder, are Will R. Davis of Nashville, under sentence of 25 years for safe robbery; Will H. Baker of Memphis, serving a life sentence for wife slaying, and Harvey L. Pressley of Shelby County, convicted for grand larceny.

The ladder, 27 feet in length, extended over the protecting wires and projected several feet beyond the wall of the prison. A strong window cord was attached to the outer end of the ladder, enabling the trio to slide safely to the ground. Davis was a carpenter and Pressley an electrician.

A Doctor Talks About Cascara

It is unfortunate that many people judge the thoroughness of a laxative by its violence. The salts that rush through the system may not even penetrate the film of poisonous matter that has coated the colon. A long list of drugs will "loosen the bowels," but what is the best way to CLEANSE them?
The world's best laxative is one that Mother Nature makes in her own laboratory. It is the bark of a tree, called CASCARA. The Indians used to chew this bark—and reach old age without a sick day. It is the best thing there is today, for any system; best for the blood. The most beneficial in its action on the bowels, of anything yet disclosed. For many reasons:
First of all, there is no HABIT.

WORKERS URGED TO GET OUT FULL DEMOCRATIC VOTE

Pivotal Position of Missouri Stressed and Warning Is Given Against Over-Confidence.

"St. Louis will redeem the State and the State may redeem the nation" in the election tomorrow, Democratic organization workers were told yesterday at a meeting at the Orpheum Theater at which they received last minute instructions on their election day assignments.

The pivotal position of Missouri was stressed in talks to the workers and while speakers declared that St. Louis would go to Gov. Smith by an overwhelming majority, they warned the workers against over-confidence and urged them to get out every possible vote.

Charles M. Hay, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, who has waged a vigorous campaign for Gov. Smith out in the State, told the workers he was confident religious prejudice alienating many Democrats from the New York Governor had largely abated in the past few weeks and asserted that "the Democrats are going to clean house not only in St. Louis, but in Jefferson City and Washington, and no one knows that better than the Republicans."

Former Congressman William L. Igoe, Democratic city campaign head, predicted that St. Louis would be carried for Gov. Smith by 50,000 "if you precinct workers do your part." Election judges and clerks in the audience were advised of their rights and duties by Peter Barrett, an attorney and specialist on election procedure.

A plea for support of Gov. Smith was made yesterday at a mass meeting of Jewish voters at Shalom Zedek Community Center, Page boulevard and West End avenue, by Maj. Gen. Henry T. Allen, retired, commander of the army of occupation in Germany after the World War.

"There is no doubt that the masses in the industrial centers are overwhelmingly devoted to Gov. Smith," said Gen. Allen. "He is the first of our candidates to come from the humble streets of a great city. At the same time he has impressed the farmers and residents of the rural districts, even in the face of great prejudice against him because of his religion."

Mark Steinberg for Smith and Some Other Democrats.

Mark Steinberg, broker, said today that not only would he vote for Gov. Smith, as he previously had announced, but for others on the Democratic ticket as well. His statement was prompted by the attachment of his name to a circular letter advising voters to vote for Gov. Smith but to support Republicans for all other offices. Steinberg said that was not his advice and the use of his name on such a letter was not authorized.

EDITOR OF 'APROPOS' SHOTS SELF DRIVING PROWLER AWAY

Harold A. Perrill, 30 years old, editor of "Apropos," official publication of the Automobile Club of Missouri, accidentally shot himself in the left arm early yesterday while firing at a man whom he found in the basement of his home, 6249 Marmaduke avenue.

Perrill, who was treated at City Hospital, told police that he was awakened at 4:40 a. m. by a noise in the basement. Recalling that the basement door was unlocked, Perrill obtained his 22-caliber rifle and went to the basement stairs. A man, wearing dark clothes and cap, started to leave the basement. Perrill reached the stairs, Perrill told police he fired one shot at the man without effect and, in attempting to fire a second time, stumbled and the rifle fell to the floor and was discharged, the bullet passing through his arm. The intruder escaped.

CALLS NAVAL PACT A BLUNDER
Viscount Grey Excoriates Anglo-French Agreement.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Viscount Grey of Falloden, speaking at a luncheon of the Liberal party leaders today, declared that the Government must recognize that a great blunder had been made in the Anglo-French naval pact. "If they are to pull the country back into the rut of accepted foreign policy," he declared, "they must take steps to repair as far as possible the consequences of the blunder."

Lord Grey asserted that the effect of the proposed pact had been to set back all further discussions of a naval agreement for a time at any rate, and to turn people's thoughts in the United States to the building of large cruisers. The object of the Anglo-French compromise was to promote a general agreement with regard to navies, but Viscount Grey asked his hearers whether they could imagine anything more fatal to begin with than by coming to an agreement regarding the limitation of cruisers, which they ought to have known in advance the United States would not accept.

BOMB SLIGHTLY DAMAGES CATHOLIC CHURCH AT HERRIN

Dynamite Apparently Was Thrown From Car; Act Attributed to Campaign Feeling.

HERRIN, Ill., Nov. 5.—A dynamite bomb, believed to have been thrown from an automobile, broke windows in the parish hall of St. Mary's Catholic Church in the business district here about 8 o'clock Saturday night.

No one was in the building at the time of the explosion. The fact that the bomb exploded about six feet away from the wall of the structure leads authorities to the theory that the explosive was thrown from a passing automobile. The bomb tore a hole several feet in diameter in the ground and shattered windows in the building, but did no other damage. The cause of the attack is not known, but is attributed by some persons to religious issues in the coming presidential election. No arrests have been made.

When You Catch Cold Rub On Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and works right away. It may prevent a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster. Musterole is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lambo, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frostbitten feet—cold of all sorts.

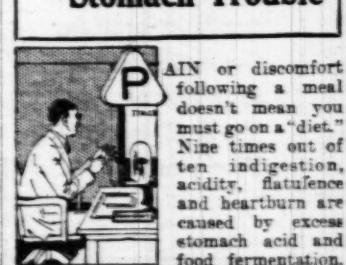

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Better than a mustard plaster

A Sudden End to Stomach Trouble

AIN or discomfort following a meal doesn't mean you must go on a "diet." Nine times out of ten indigestion, acidity, flatulence and heartburn are caused by excess stomach acid and food fermentation. After too hasty a lunch, or too hearty a dinner, a little "Pape's Diapiesin," instantly neutralizes excess acidity, stops that fermentation, and soothes and heals the acid-inflamed stomach lining as if by magic. Your recovery is quick and complete. Make a special point of getting a 60-cent package of "Pape's Diapiesin" from your druggist today, and so follow the example of millions all over the world who use "Pape's Diapiesin" to end indigestion and allied stomach troubles. With "Pape's Diapiesin" handy you can eat and enjoy whatever you fancy without fear of pain or discomfort to follow. At any rate, it's worth the trial, for lots of folks have found a new freedom at the table.

You Wouldn't Set Fire to a Pile of Dollar Bills

Then why burn wasteful fuel? Why pay good money for the billows of smoke that pour from thriftless chimneys? Every time smoke rolls from your chimney you're wasting money. Smoke is waste.

Why burn fuel that fills the air with wasteful, harmful smoke and smudges your walls and curtains with soot, when you can burn coke and enjoy a clean heat and healthful warmth? Coke, when properly handled, will cost no more than dirty, less-efficient fuels. Remember, a ton of coke will go as far as 1½ to 2 tons of soft coal, there is less waste, less worry and absolutely no smoke or soot.

ANGELIC PRIMATE FINDS CHURCH LAX ON MORAL ISSUES

Archbishop of Canterbury, in Farewell, Says He Doubts All Its Force Is Brought to Bear.

By the Associated Press.

CANTERBURY, England, Nov. 5.—Archbishop Randall Thomas Davidson, preaching his farewell sermon in the Cathedral here last night, said he had qualms concerning the forcefulness of the church on plain moral questions although he was convinced that it was far stronger and more united than when his working years began.

In his review of his work as Archbishop, he said that without desiring to belittle the gravity of the difficult questions now disturbing the church (the prayerbook issue), it would be a mistake to regard these surface troubles as the outstanding fact in the Church of England today.

He said he was convinced that the church was far stronger, has a truer vision of God's purpose and is more united in effort and prayer than it was when his working years began.

"But," he concluded, "are you satisfied about the forcefulness of the church on plain moral questions—the problems of married life, the temptations of unmarried life, straightforwardness in industry or in civic and social fields?"

"Does the church adequately count? Is its witness fearless? I know full well the difficulties, but do we face them frankly and courageously? I ask myself, and my answer gives me qualms."

More than 500 persons, including many notables from all parts of the diocese, gathered at the Cathedral to hear the Archbishop. The pulpit and the throne were decorated with roses.

Especially moving was the moment when the Archbishop's chaplain took his grace's cross for the last time from the throne and handed it to the primate before the latter gave his blessing in a broken voice from the pulpit. After the service the Archbishop was escorted to his home by scholars from Kings College, which has had long connections with the Cathedral.

130 Residences Constructed Since Jan. 1 of This Year.

MARSHALL, Mo., Nov. 5.—One hundred and thirty houses have been constructed in Marshall this year, according to a statement issued by a member of the Chamber of Commerce. Twenty-three public buildings, which include those for manufacturing plants, churches, apartments, stores, garages, schools and chapels, also have been constructed at an estimated cost of $513,000.

The latest figures show that 77 houses were built in 1926 and 119 houses in 1927. These, added to the number constructed this year, make a total of 315 new houses in the city in a 35-month period. Money spent for public buildings in the city since 1926 totals about $775,000.

"GREATEST MEDICINE I EVER USED"

Said Motorman, Praising Miller's Herb Extract. Gladly Recommends It to Every-one.

"It's the only medicine that would ever put me in a healthy condition," I feel like it has done me worlds of good. Now I have my health back, work every day and get plenty of kick out of it, too. In my opinion, you just can't beat Miller's Herb Extract (formerly called Herb Juice) for good, lasting benefits."

J. M. SCHUSHUS

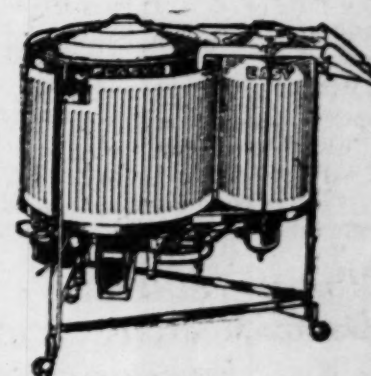

"I believe wholeheartedly that Miller's Herb Extract is the greatest medicine on the market. I know it is the finest remedy I ever used, the only medicine to relieve and banish all my ailments and restore me to good health. I think it takes a real medicine to do that much." Mr. Schushus, in praising the Herb Extract Remedy, joins thousands of others who have been greatly benefited and do now enjoy better health after taking Miller's Herb Extract, commonly known as "Herb Juice." "I want you to know that I never fail to tell my friends and fellow-workmen about your great medicine," stated Mr. Schushus when interviewed by the local representative, "and what it has done for me. I conscientiously believe it will do as much for other sufferers. I had a chronic case of constipation for years; stomach was all upset, liver inactive, kidneys out of order, bowels were very irregular and I frequently had sick headache, bilious attacks, dizzy spells, and pains in my shoulders and limbs; in fact, I ached all over a great deal of the time. My whole system was so badly deranged that I suffered day and night, couldn't get my rest and sleep and during work hours I could hardly stay awake. I was in misery most all the time. But a few bottles of Miller's Herb Extract put me on my feet, and in much shorter time than I expected, I was feeling fine and dandy, free from every ache and pain, eating hearty three times a day and now, after taking this good medicine for over a month I am in a healthy condition once more and feel like a man made over. I sleep fine, get my rest and find pleasure in my work. I will always praise this great medicine for bringing me good health after so much suffering."

Hundreds call daily to see the Herb Juice Medicine Company's special representative, who has established headquarters at Wolff-Wilson Drug Store, Seventh and Washington, to learn more of this great medicine that is bringing health and happiness to so many St. Louis citizens.

BYRD ARRIVES AT NEW ZEALAND ON WAY TO POLE

Commander Expects to Remain in Wellington This Month to Await Other Two Ships.

OFFICIALS WELCOME EXPEDITION LEADER

Planes and Supplies on Whaler Larson to Be Loaded On Vessels for Antarctic Trip.

By RUSSELL OWEN.
Copyright, 1928, by St. Louis Post-Dispatch and New York Times.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Nov. 5.—Lieutenant-Commander Byrd arrived here this morning aboard the whaler C. A. Larson, and was greeted in the harbor by representatives of the New Zealand Government and by the United States Consul Bernard Gille.

Customs formalities were waived, and when the Larson reached the dock after quarantine inspection every possible courtesy was accorded the members of the Antarctic expedition. It was a drizzly, windy day, but the weather did not dampen the reception.

Byrd and the members of his party went to the Mivens Hotel to prepare for two receptions, a luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce and a reception at the City Hall.

In his remarks at these affairs the Commander outlined briefly the plan of the expedition, telling his hosts that he expected to remain in Wellington until the end of the month, and that he was greatly pleased at the warmth of his welcome.

Bleated With Reception.
"All the great Antarctic explorers, those in whose footsteps we follow, hoping to add our bit to their accomplishments, have visited your country, either going to or returning from the Antarctic," he said, "and it gives me the greater pleasure because this fact to remain among you."

The Larson was unloaded. The planes and other supplies will be loaded aboard the expedition's ships. If the Larson remains here for the day, Capt. Nilsen and the other officers and crew of the whaler will be Byrd's guests at dinner tomorrow night.

The Eleanor Bolling will probably arrive at Wellington on the fifteenth and the City of New York a week later. The City of New York will be the first to start from Wellington as it is best able to resist the ice and the Eleanor Bolling will follow when the ice begins to rot.

Everything depends, however, on the ice conditions and the peculiarities of the season, as every year is different.

Albatrosses Follow Ship.
Yesterday the pilots of the C. A. Larson arrived in the evolution of huge albatrosses, 30 of which were following the ship. The birds were with wing spread of 10 feet or more, banked beautifully in strong wind, climb in chandeliers with a grace to make the human flippers envious and coast alongside the ship, without touching it, without beating their wings. White, silent and beautiful, they passed by without apparent effort, flying directly into the wind on a level keel.

"Boy, I wish I could fly like that," said Parker, known as a stunt pilot.

Two whales blowing yesterday morning excited the interest of everybody, including the whaler's gunners, who began to feel that they were near their hunting grounds.

Everyone is well and glad to be approaching the more serious part of the work. The only disappointed ones are the stowaways, who present a maritime problem. Generally stowaways are returned to the port of embarkation, but the C. A. Larson will return to San Pedro this year.

They wanted to go whaling, but they lack of experience makes them useless. Probably they will be turned over to the Consul. Commander Byrd bought them outfits of decent clothes today, as they were ragged.

Swedish Royalty at O'Neill Play.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 5.—The Crown Prince and Princess of Sweden, Prince Ingrid were in the audience which Saturday night saw the first European performance of Eugene O'Neill's "Beyond the Horizon" in the Royal Theatre. There was a large representation of diplomats, including Leland Harrison and the United States Legation. Swedish translation is by Mrs. Trulle. Critics in yesterday's papers spoke highly of the play.

FLIES 319 MILES AN HOUR, RECORD IS NOT ACCEPTED

Briton Exceeds Old Mark Made by Italian by Nearly One Mile.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Although he traveled faster yesterday than any living thing on this planet, Lieut. Darcy Greig, who drove his supermarine Napier seaplane over the Solent at 319.57 miles per hour will not be officially ranked as a record holder.

Under an international agreement, a new record must beat an old one by five miles an hour to be accepted, and Greig yesterday beat the speed record of Maj. Bernhardt, Italian ace, by only .95 mile.

The British Air Ministry is expected to order Greig to try again as his machine on Saturday, in an unofficial flight, when 2000 feet up—700 feet higher than in the official trials permit for record attempts—was informally timed at 345 miles per hour. It is said to be capable of 400.

The heat during his dash yesterday was so great that Greig almost suffocated, despite cold air pumped out of cylinders, and his coat was scorched. The flyer said afterward that he could not see while he was going at maximum speed.

BRATIANO FOR COALITION GOVERNMENT IN RUMANIA

Ex-Premier Submits Proposal to Regency; Peasant Regime Headed by Manu Likely.

By the Associated Press.
BUCHAREST, Nov. 5.—Vintila Bratiano, former Premier, today conferred with the Council of Regents and suggested to them a way out of the dilemma in which he found himself after he had been forced to resign his Government.

He advised that a national government be formed and stated that the Liberal party, of which he is the head, would participate in such a government.

It appeared certain, however, that no decision would be taken before the arrival of Nicholas Titulescu, former Foreign Minister, and independent in politics. Titulescu will arrive Wednesday from London, where he now is Rumanian Minister.

Belief was expressed in some quarters that the regency might ask Titulescu to form a coalition government in an attempt to placate all parties, but Titulescu's friends said that he would almost certainly decline such a task as the life of such a government would be short.

Developments appeared to favor a peasant government led by Iuliu Manu as the successors of the powerful capitalist Bratiano regime, which has ruled for half a century with only brief interruptions.

Manu's party represents 80 per cent of the population. If he forms a cabinet it is expected that he will call for a national election since two-thirds of the present Parliament are Liberals led by Bratiano and opposed to the Peasant party.

"I shall give Rumania an administration patterned on the enlightened lines of the United States," Manu said in defining his stand.

The former Commander in Chief of the Russian Emperor's armies is dismissing his personal staff, composed of former Russian officers.

LABOR PARTY TO BACK SMITH

Pennsylvania State Chairman Repudiates Thomas' Candidacy.

By the Associated Press.
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 5.—Repudiating the candidacy of Representative Thomas and Benjamin Glavin, candidates for President and Vice President, respectively, of the Socialist party, James Kutz of Altoona, State chairman of the Labor party of Pennsylvania, last night declared that "electors appearing upon the ballot in the Labor party column will support Gov. Smith, Democratic candidate for the presidency."

In his statement Kutz said that, as the Labor party had not nominated in any national convention of the party any presidential or vice-presidential candidates this year the certified list of electors appearing upon the ballot "will support Gov. Smith because of his progressive attitude on water power, farm relief and other measures, and for his splendid labor record."

AMERICAN WOUNDED BY CHINESE PIRATES

Others From U. S. Robbed
When Gang Seizes Steamer
Out of Hankow.

By the Associated Press.

HANKOW, China, Nov. 5.—One American was shot in the thigh and others were robbed by a gang of Chinese which took possession of the steamer Shao of the China Navigation Co. soon after it left Hankow Saturday.

The wounded man was Henry Henvie, formerly manager of a firm here, who was on the way to the United States. A man named Pepper, believed to be Nathaniel Pepper, an American magazine writer who has been studying economic and social conditions in China in behalf of the Guggenheim Foundation, and his wife, were among those robbed.

The pirates had boarded the ship as passengers. They overpowered the captain and officers of the steamer soon after it sailed, killed a Chinese business agent and wounded another. The cabins of first-class passengers were looted of property valued at $7500.

Among those robbed was a French naval officer. The pirates escaped in a launch which came alongside.

FRANCE TO HEAR ELECTION RETURNS OVER RADIO

Sentiment in Paris Apparently Favors Smith, on Account of Wet Stand.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Nov. 5.—Never before in the history of American politics has a presidential election stirred the French nation to such depths of interest as Tuesday's voting, not even the Wilson-Hughes contest in 1916, when Frenchmen were told that American participation in the World War hinged upon the result.

Paris papers yesterday devoted columns to the "Hoover-Smith battle," with sentiment apparently favoring Smith. Particular stress is paid to the Democratic nominee's stand on light wines and beer, as it might possibly affect French exports.

The European edition of the Herald-Tribune and the Chicago Tribune have made arrangements to broadcast the results Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. Mountaineer all night resorts also are arranging special services.

CHOLERA EPIDEMIC, 2000 DEAD

By the Associated Press.

BOMBAY, British India, Nov. 5.—An epidemic of cholera is raging in the State of Travancore, in the southern part of the Indian Peninsula. The deaths already total 2000, or 62 per cent of the cases. In the capital city Trivandrum the outbreak has been checked by a vigorous campaign of inoculation but in the southern areas near the sea the disease is virulent.

PAY OF INDUSTRIAL WORKERS RISES FASTER THAN CLERKS'

Former's Wage Increased 117 Per Cent Since 1914, Latter's 74

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Industrial wage earners have gained considerably greater economic advantage than office workers during the past 15 years as compared with rates of compensation prevailing in 1914, according to a study made by the National Industrial Conference Board.

While the average weekly earnings of industrial workers during 1927 were approximately 117 per cent above those in 1914, clerks' salaries on the average were only about 74 per cent above the prewar level.

Figures on clerical salaries for the whole country are not available, but the board has made use of data supplied by the National Employment Exchange, New York City.

The cost of living in 1927 averaged approximately 64 per cent above the 1914 level, but it must be remembered, the board points out, that the cost of living index is based on a budget covering goods and services necessary to maintain a fair standard of living for factory wage earners, as of 1914.

ARMS SESSION DISCUSSED

GENEVA, Nov. 5.—Negotiations are understood to be in progress between the Interim Government and the League of Nations on the question of convoking the preparatory disarmament commission in January, 1929.

Proposals to hold a session of the naval experts of the five leading naval powers, including the United States, appear to have been abandoned temporarily, although the officials of some Governments feel that it would be futile to convolve the preparatory commission without preliminary negotiations toward establishing a naval accord.

It is thought that Great Britain would be unlikely to agree to the Powers to approach the United States with any new suggestion. Those in favor of holding a January session think that the naval difficulties can be discussed at that time without any preliminary negotiations.

MAKES PLEA FOR BAR ASSOCIATION TICKET

I. V. Barth Says Party Should Not Sway Choice of Circuit Attorney and Judges.

By the Associated Press.

Irvin V. Barth, former Circuit Judge, spoke to a radio audience of Station KSD last evening, in support of the St. Louis Bar Association's recommended list of candidates for Judges and Circuit Attorney.

The Bar Association's list is: For Circuit Judges, Calhoun, Hamilton, Taylor, Percy, Falkenhainer and O'Connell; For Circuit Attorney, Butler and Gayer; For Circuit Attorney, Miller, Democrats, Judges Butler and Gayer, Republicans.

Barth told of reasons why the party system is a feasible means of choosing executive and legislative officials. "But," he continued, "the principle of a political character as a logically control in the selection of our Judges or even in the choice of the Circuit Attorney. 63 of Byrd's Expedition Meet in South Pacific

Crews of the Eleanor Bolling and City of New York Together a Few Hours on Island of Tahiti.

By JOE DE GANAH.

Copyright, 1928, by St. Louis Post-Dispatch and New York Times.

ON BOARD THE STEAMSHIP ELEANOR BOLLING, At Sea, Nov. 5.—A brief rendezvous in the South Pacific came to an end Thursday when the Eleanor Bolling, bearing 30 members of the Byrd Antarctic expedition, pulled away from the City of New York, the flagship of the Polar fleet, zigzagged her way through the coral reefs that surround the Island of Tahiti, and headed for Wellington, New Zealand, and the next stop on her long Southern voyage.

The Eleanor Bolling had been tied up beside the sailing vessel for 26 hours bringing together 63 members of the expedition, more than had been assembled at any one place before. Friends and former shipmates, who had not expected to see each other until the expedition fleet was organized in New Zealand, made the most of their reunion.

The Eleanor Bolling arrived at the reefs of Papeete, the largest settlement on the volcanic island, at sundown on Tuesday night. She tied up to the coaling wharf on Wednesday morning and, after taking on fuel and provisions, pulled out into the harbor early the following morning.

Crew on Rafts and Rigging.—Hardly had she dropped her anchors than the City of New York, under steam and sail, appeared around a peninsula of the island. An hour later she was anchored 400 yards away from the boat which had lain beside her in the shipyard at Tebo Basin, Brooklyn.

The crews of both ships climbed to the rails and rigging to wave to their friends and await the quarantine inspection. An hour later the formalities were over. The Eleanor Bolling signaled for a boat from shore, but for a time none was available.

Corp. Charles Kessler, who had been a member of Commander Byrd's North Pole expedition, wanted to see his former shipmates and he decided not to wait. He went over the side and a few minutes later climbed aboard, the first member of the Bolling's crew to visit the other ship. Three hours later, the City of New York was brought to the coal pier, and Capt. Gustav V. Brown brought the Bolling alongside.

Arrival Excites Natives.—The arrival of a boat is an event in the little French and native settlement of scarcely 3000 persons. A few of them had heard of Commander Byrd. A few more had heard that there was a South Pole, but that little information, spread with the news of the arrival of the two ships in three days, brought the natives flocking to the water front.

The handful of American residents of Tahiti placed their homes and beaches at the disposal of the expedition members. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cook and Mrs. Mary Miller of New York, L. V. Boyle, Consul at Tahiti; Eastman Guild, a resident of Papeete, and Scudder Guild of Boston, spent much of their time entertaining the men from the two ships. The South Pacific meeting of the two expedition vessels was decided upon in order that radio personnel and equipment could be transferred. H. F. Mason, radio operator on the Eleanor Bolling, was transferred to the City of New York, so that he could have more time to construct portable sets for the expedition. His place on the Bolling was taken by Radio Officer Carl O. Peterson from the City of New York.

Cheers at Parting.—The transhipment of cargo was completed at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and an hour later the Eleanor Bolling was pulling away. The crew of the City of New York, assembled amidships, broke out into cheers for Capt. Brown and the Eleanor Bolling as she swung around into the stream. The supply ship dipped her colors, and Capt. Frederick C. Melville of the City of New York answered the salute a few minutes later. The little French settlement had disappeared under the palms and the crew turned to the tasks which will take them to the ice barrier on the Antarctic continent.

POWER FROM OCEAN WAVES

Polish Engineer Invents Machine to Compress Air.

By the Associated Press.

RIO JANEIRO, Nov. 5.—A Polish engineer, Francisco Derogut-Rawicz, who has lived in Brazil for 22 years, has announced the invention of a machine by which the movement of the ocean waves would be harnessed.

The vertical motion of the waves would be converted into power by compression of air. He has demonstrated his apparatus before the Minister of Marine.

Marines Capture Insurance.—SAN JUAN, BEL SUR, Nicaragua, Nov. 5.—Unconfirmed reports received here say that Pedro Altamirano, insurance leader, who is charged with the murder of several Liberals at Jinotega recently, was captured by marines in Managua, in front of the home of Gen. Jose Moncada, Liberal candidate for President.

The papers served by Tass are published in 51 languages and dialects and have a circulation of more than 8,000,000, reaching from Leningrad to Vladivostok and from the Arctic Circle to Central Asia, according to Kenneth Durant, director of the organization's New York Bureau. "Tass, hooked up with the elaborate reporting and tabulating system of the Associated Press," he explained, "will send the dual returns to Moscow where they will be translated into many tongues and distributed by every means of communication—telegraph, telephone and radio, airplane, reindeer sleds and camel caravan, to the most remote villages across the steppes and mountains."

Apparently the plan which required each voter to dip the thumb of his right hand in a harmless red wax solution which stained it red was successful in preventing repeating. President Diaz was exempted from this process but he proudly held up a red-stained thumb after casting his ballot. He said he desired to set an example for all voters.

Wanted Led 1928 Revolt.—Brigadier-General Frank R. McCoy, who headed the United States election officials, expressed much satisfaction today over the orderly manner in which the balloting had gone. He commended especially the hearty co-operation of all members of the United States electoral mission, the marine brigade, Brigadier-General Logan Feland, Rear Admiral David F. Sellers, and Charles Eberhardt, United States Minister to Nicaragua.

"Gen. Feland," said McCoy, "did an excellent job in pacifying the country so that an orderly and fair election was made possible for the first time in the history of Nicaragua."

Leading Nicaraguan officials, including President Diaz, commended the United States supervision as a "splendid piece of work."

Gen. Moncada was a leader of the Liberal revolution of 1926-1927 which was ended by an agreement that the United States would supervise the election. He is 54 years old and for many years conducted newspapers in Rivas, Granada and Managua. His running mate was Enoc Aguada, a lawyer of Managua.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

E LEVEN votes in this family for good, old, honest Al.
REPUBLICAN, PROTESTANT, PROHIBITIONIST.

WE suggest that Gov. Smith drop his sham battle on such trivial issues as prohibition, farm relief, water power and give us his stand on the important issues of the campaign. These are silk stockings, radios and gasoline in every tank. Mr. Hoover has taken a definite stand as a go-getter for bigger and better silk stockings for textile workers. Will Mr. Smith promise us a car? Mr. Hoover has promised us a full gas tank.

THERE are 62 counties in the State of New York. In 1918 Al Smith carried only two counties of the State outside New York City. In 1920 he carried no counties. In 1922 only nine counties. In 1924 and 1926 only three counties. Yee, Al Smith is a popular Governor in the City of New York, where Tammany Hall reigns supreme, but not in New York State.

YOUR cartoon of Thursday was very clever. However, old John Barleycorn, a nice assortment of snakes, the old jackass and a Catholic Smith would make a stronger combination. So strong it will be necessary to bury them Nov. 6.

I WONDER how many K. K. K.'s have done as I have. I've put my pillow and sheet back on the bed. I sleep much better and am going to vote for an American and a Catholic, none other than Al Smith.
K. K. K.

A WELL-INFORMED ELECTORATE.

In the extraordinary presidential campaign—in some respects unprecedented—closed today, Gov. Smith has easily won the debate. So far as his leading opponent, Mr. Hoover, is concerned, it was largely a one-sided debate. Mr. Hoover refused to be drawn into a free and frank discussion of the issues. But he had able and eloquent advocates, whom Gov. Smith had to answer.

The New York Governor made good on the highest expectation of his supporters. He took the leadership of the campaign and front rank as the most conspicuous, interesting and attractive candidate who had been in the field since Roosevelt. In some respects he excelled Roosevelt as a campaigner. He demonstrated exceptional talents as a speaker. Handling the same subjects over and over again, he succeeded in making every one of his speeches interesting and forceful. He developed amazing resources in the dramatic presentation of his cause. Whether elected or not, Gov. Smith has made valuable contributions to better politics and to better methods of campaigning.

He transformed the Democratic party into a liberal party, with a definite progressive program. He took it away from the domination of the solid South and cut out the handicaps of antiquated tradition and prejudices. He put new life into Democratic principles and in applying them to the problems of today appealed to the industrial and agricultural elements of the North, where the party must win success. Under his leadership it has become a national instead of a sectional party.

Gov. Smith has transformed the methods of presidential campaigning. He was the leading advocate of his own candidacy and his own causes. He took the people into his confidence. He freely and frankly discussed what he conceived to be the vital issues and exposed his own mind and purposes with regard to them.

Gov. Smith's free and frank discussion of public questions and governmental problems, with the tremendous aid of the radio, has informed the electorate with regard to them more fully than it has ever been informed before. In the enlightening of the public on public questions the radio has developed into an invaluable factor. Through it millions of people have had direct access to the words, the arguments, and in large measure the personality of each candidate and the leading advocates on each side. The voters were not dependent upon local speakers and newspapers, frequently intensely partisan, nor upon newspaper reports. They heard directly from the candidates and most of the leaders to whom they chose to listen.

The radio has been instrumental in largely eliminating misrepresentation and evasion. Misrepresentation was subjected to the white light of vast publicity. The candidates and their advocates could not preach one doctrine in one section and another in other sections. They could not, for instance, be wet in the cities and dry in the country. Both city and country heard their speeches.

Prohibition, which has hitherto been taboo in political campaigns, was drawn into public discussion by Gov. Smith's frank and courageous avowals of his purpose to try and change the present system, to restore the rights of the states and to remedy the evils of Federal prohibition. Even the absurd and contemptible issue of religion in politics, which began in a whisper and ended in a loud speaker, was discussed in a way to enlighten the voters on the fundamental principles governing that question, and to dispel ignorance and prejudice. The radio has not only supplied the means of vast publicity, but has stimulated and in a measure enforced greater and more impartial newspaper publicity.

With these factors in the campaign, the refreshing frankness and courage of Gov. Smith and the greatly increased means of publicity, the voters have been informed with regard to the candidates and the issues better than ever before. These factors are probably the chief causes of the increased registration. Under the flood of discussion carried directly to them, it is difficult for voters to be either apathetic or neutral. They have been aroused and have chosen one side or the other.

It will be a well-informed majority whose choice will be registered at the polls.

MR. SHAW AND THE UNITED STATES.
That distance does lend enchantment to the view none of us doubts, but it will be a surprise to learn that the sophisticated George Bernard Shaw believes human nature is any different in the United States than it is Europe.

Mr. Shaw says that if jails are needed anywhere they may be had in the United States, which has rendered them useless with prohibition. Does he think prohibition would render the jails of the British Isles useless? Certainly not. Nothing is plainer in all he has written than that compulsion carried beyond a point causes a reaction in human nature.

The truth is that jails in the United States are overworked wherever an attempt is made to enforce prohibition. If the state jails are sometimes empty because enforcement of this unpopular law by the state is weak, some of these same jails are easily filled up by the Federal courts. The St. Charles and Audrain county jails, which receive most of the moonshiners and bootleggers sentenced in the Federal courts at St. Louis, are not empty. They are a source of revenue for both counties, and both are always chockablock.

It is too bad that Mr. Shaw does not come to the United States. He would not only see something that would disillusion him, but would get material for a comedy that nobody else can write.

TO POLL OR NOT TO POLL?

It was likely the close relation which the 1924 poll of the Literary Digest bore to the result that induced so many publications to poll the country this year. Even one college paper did it.

Possibly the election itself could serve an excellent purpose in proving that these quadrennial verdicts of the people cannot be so easily anticipated. It is not easy to see what the peril might be if the polls settled the matter before the election was held, but there may be evil in it. Polls such as the Literary Digest made this year might be a deciding factor in public opinion rather than a mere reflection of it. Betting commissioners say it has influenced the betting. If so, might it not influence voters?

Whatever the case, certain it is that all the polls taken this year except possibly that of the Nation have made the Republicans jubilant and the Democrats blue. The Literary Digest poll gives Smith four States, all in the South. The Farm Journal poll gives him only three, the Dakotas and South Carolina. Strangely enough, farmers in the grain States show nowhere a majority for Smith, just as in the Digest poll no big city except New York is for Smith despite the judgment of politicians that practically every big city will give Smith a majority. Polling is therefore in very grave danger of repudiation as an undue effort to inquire into people's minds before they are made up. There are signs that Smith sentiment has gained in the last days of the campaign. If so, is it any wonder that people have not been willing to say in advance how they will vote, or were even sure that they knew?

A REMINDER.

When voters go to the polls tomorrow, they should not permit their interest in the presidential race to cause them to neglect certain local and state issues of much importance.

Perhaps the most noteworthy of these is the choice of a Circuit Attorney. Howard Sidener, Republican incumbent, opposed by Franklin Miller, Democrat. Mr. Sidener's record as Circuit Attorney is a very bad one, while Judge Miller may be expected to bring to the office ability, courage and aggressiveness. The Bar Association, which has no partisan interest in elections, urges the election of Mr. Miller. We think the voters of St. Louis should follow that suggestion without regard to party affiliations.

It will be necessary to elect nine Circuit Judges in St. Louis. Here again voters will make no mistake in following the selections of the Bar Association. These selections, representing the opinion of St. Louis lawyers as to the nine men best qualified to serve, are: Republicans: H. A. Hamilton, John W. Calhoun, Claude O. Peary, Wilson A. Taylor, Erwin G. Ossing and Victor H. Falkenhainer; Democrats: O'Neill Ryan, Moses N. Sale and James F. Green.

Proposition No. 2 is recommended for approval. It sets up a pension system for policemen and their families. St. Louis has lagged in such a provision for men who daily risk their lives in the service of the community, and few, we think, will deny the justice of it.

Proposition No. 3 is for a $75,000,000 bond issue to complete the State's road system. St. Louis has a stake in this proposal, because under it St. Louis outlets will be widened to accommodate the ever-increasing automobile traffic. The bond issue is supported by the Automobile Club, the State Highway Commission, both parties and both candidates for Governor. It should be passed.

THE COUNTY ELECTION.

St. Louis County voters have for their consideration a bipartisan slate of candidates for important local offices, presented and supported by the Taxpayers' League, a well-organized agency working without selfish motives in the interest of good government and the elimination of crime of all sorts.

The league has given the electorate its reasons in favor of the five Republicans and four Democrats it recommends, and its arguments bear weight. They are deserving of study by the people, if county residents really want reform.

Among those supported by the league are Circuit Judge Mulloy, who has directed a notable housecleaning through his grand juries; Provisional Circuit Judge Nolte, who bears an admirable record; Harry W. Castlen, who has made good as County Counselor and now promises an honest, efficient and thorough administration of the office of Prosecuting Attorney, if elected; S. C. Petersen, who is pledged to honest law enforcement if made Sheriff, and Dr. John O'Connell, on whom the league depends to reform the office of Coroner and give it the benefit of a physician's knowledge. Among others backed by the league are George Rott and Thomas Leonard, two of the candidates for the County Court, or administrative body having broad powers in the public business. The league approves their capabilities.

BACKFIRE.

The presidential campaign just closing has been given a high degree of comedy by the diverting practice of recalling what all the principals said 10, 15 and 20 years ago.

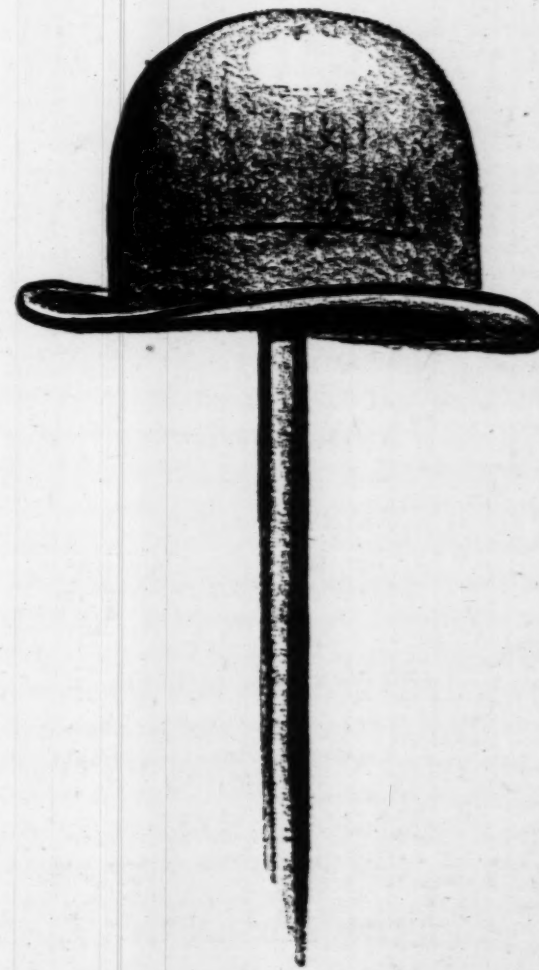

Mr. Borah, who said terrible things of Mr. Hoover during the war, explains that men change their minds. Mr. Hughes recalls that in 1920 the New York World, now supporting Gov. Smith, wanted one of the parties to nominate Mr. Hoover. To the World, of course, that was then and this is now. Confronted with the Congressional Record, which shows that in a debate with Senator Norris on the power question he declared himself against what appears to be the power policy of his running mate now, Senator Robinson answers that the cases differ. Reminded that he had himself called Gov. Smith our ablest student of politics, something say general in government, Mr. Hughes himself takes refuge in the explanation that he spoke of Mr. Smith as a Governor, whereas we are now talking of Presidents. Utterances which Mr. Hoover made as Food Commissioner have been an almost sensational feature of the campaign.

So it has gone, a backfire that has caused everybody confusion, embarrassed men and embarrassed parties. But it is not by any politician that the most interesting piece of backfire is contributed to this symposium of men reversing themselves. The most interesting, perhaps amazing, contribution is made in the current Harper's by Charles A. Beard, the historian. Speaking of the reluctance with which people have always turned from one form of government to another, he says:

Does history show many examples of a people constantly and deliberately substituting a republic for a monarchy? Were not the American people loyal to George III until 1775, when shots at Lexington started an avalanche? If there were 10 republicans in all the 13 colonies at that time they certainly did not make themselves known. A few months before Washington wrote: "No such thing as independence is desired by any thinking man."

We are sure this will be a great comfort to all those whose opinions of 10, 15 and 20 years ago have risen to plague them now. It will, we imagine, increase the affection in which we hold Washington, and it will surprise us if Mr. Hoover, Mr. Hughes, Gov. Smith, Mr. Borah, the New York World, and all those similarly embarrassed, do not see new virtue in the Washington Monument.

After revelations of wholesale demoralization of Philadelphia's police by bootleggers comes the news that 400 Pittsburgh saloons have been operating under police and political control. Advocates of the "noble experiment" certainly are gluttons for punishment.

Young Germany

The German Youth Movement in its flower in 1922-1923 has been captured and formalized to a large extent by the government and by various associations of older people; however, the movement is still playing a vivid part in cultivating a feeling for individual personal value in Germany.

H. D. HILL in The Nation.

DURING the years 1922-23 we read a great deal about the German Youth Movement. During the years 1925-1926 we read a great deal less about it, and the general impression was that it had divided, disintegrated, and died. Consequently, it was a little surprising, in the first week of 1928, to find a sky-sign across the front of the Leipzig station reading "Visit the Young Germany Exposition," and to discover that in less than a month over 45,000 people had obeyed that injunction. The great majority of visitors were school children, who came in their class groups, but aside from the unemployed, who were admitted free, 12,000 tickets were used by adults, so that the spontaneity of a large part of the attendance seemed unquestionable. When one looked about at the people who were in the exhibition at any given time one saw, too, how widely the interest was distributed. Bourgeois with circumferential watch chains, workers in rough clothes and shabby overcoats, deaconesses in starched white caps, scores of young men and women of 25 to 30, all these were there in addition to hordes of small boys. It was obvious that the youth of Germany is still a matter of public interest.

Yet the present Youth Movement is not, indeed, the Youth Movement of the years just after the war. It is quite true that that movement is in a sense dead. The first years after the revolution seemed to hold a promise of a new world built by an unshackled youth. The emotion of the nation's crisis, and the institutional confusion which accompanied it, temporarily unified within the movement a wide range of elements. But the old world proved to be made of stubborn stuff; little by little it became obvious that concrete programs, not mass idealism, were required to alter it; for many the exuberance of a new freedom was damped by the stark necessities of earning a living. The splitting up which followed was wholly natural. In the first place, the Youth Movement was approached by a whole series of older organizations eager to capture it. The drive which would accrue to whatever group could control its energy was not lost upon the political parties, upon the churches, upon various cultural groups such as those eager to preserve the traditions of the separate states, upon the Government itself. All of these have made vigorous and in the main successful efforts to relate to themselves the Youth Movement to themselves. The fact that there are almost 100 recognized youth organizations in Germany today bears witness to the extent to which division has gone. It has not been wholly due to outside causes, however; the problem of the different interests of succeeding generations has been felt—even in the Youth Movement. The pre-war youth movement of bourgeois origin, which was a revolt against middle-class formalities, is today without a base. The conventions against which it revolted have today the same somewhat stale flavor as the macaroni scene in "The Dolls' House." The youth who sang around the bonfires of 1920 now find that they are slightly older, and that feeling is increased by the fact that the changes which were to make the better world in which they believed are coming at a rate less exhilarating than they had supposed. On the other hand, the youngsters who can only just remember the war, and who, since the stabilization of 1924, have been growing up in an improving world, treat life as a very normal affair. It is easy to understand their response to the call of the sport associations, groups organized solely for physical training and games, which were founded with an eye to filling the gap left by the discontinuance of military training.

There are 3,100,000 youngsters between 14 and 21 in Germany; the youth associations number 5,516,200 among their members. While a few persons between 21 and 25 are included in the latter figure, it gives a fair idea of the great proportion of German youth definitely organized. There is a considerable degree of liaison between the different groups. Their work is integrated on its administrative side by the Reichsausschuss der Deutschen Jugendverbände in Berlin, which arranges Tagungen, festivals and celebrations and speakers, and also assist in pooling the experience of its members. The various states of the Reich are also in close local contact with the various youth organizations through their unemployment, health and relief agencies. Further, through the Verband der Deutsche Jugendherbergen, they have facilitated the arrangement of summer camping trips by requiring innkeepers to take in wanderers and by either erecting new buildings or permitting the use of old castles for vacation homes and halting places for tramping; from 1920 to 1926 the number of rest houses for the youth movement in Saxony alone grew from 72 to 153, and the number of persons accommodated from 12,000 to 245,000 per year. Still another relation of the states to working youth is through the development of the Volkshochschulen, for, though the People's Colleges make no discrimination on the basis of age, at least half of their students are less than 25 years old. Likewise with regard to the libraries, 28 per cent of the readers in the Berlin city libraries are not yet 18. The contact of these Government agencies with the youth groups makes the conditions under which the youth of Germany is growing up a definite interest of the state.

The Youth Movement has played, and is playing, a vivid part in cultivating a feeling for individual personal value in Germany. The gay costumes, wood carving and painting, the revival of folk songs to the tune of wayside guitars—the whole picturesque side about which so much has been published—are only the trappings of an inner idea. In so far as this idea is captured, the youth organizations will be turned into the agencies of an administrative paternalism; they will still be useful, but in a social service sense of reparation for bad conditions left over from the past. In so far as the idea can keep its spontaneity it will be a dynamic in the growing republic.

Vital Exceptions, Hitherto Unusual

A ship is christened with champagne and ever thereafter takes to the water. Some prohibitionist.

When our father, old Noah, had the ark, and our shipping first was a bud.

He set out with his crew and his male, too, on a voyage evading the law. And for forty long days and for long nights did the waters continue to flow.

Hence old Noah was taught as he saw, that man have been the true word of God's law.

As the first of our sailors, his help of water is one with which we should agree.

For if ever a man was acquainted with water, 'twas Noah, who first sailed a sea.

Did he therefore indulge when the ark was done, on cold water, though with brine?

'Tis recorded he did not do so, but he straightway betook him to wine.

When they built a tower to reach the sky, as still further the record we find.

It was not from vain glory the builders strove, for their work served a good need:

They had heard of the story of Noah's ark, and they had learned that the world was not so bad.

They had learned in their wisdom that humans must fear what as liquor was wont to employ.

Let us ponder this story of Noah's ark, building, all written so simply and true.

When they built a tower to reach the sky, from harm, what they feared was the flood.

Then regale us with vessels that sail on the water when once they have learned to swim.

But wise men, for good reason, have feared water—the lesson, I think, is quite plain.

We admit that the nation will not be what it will endure in working time.

The height of condescension, I think, would be to offer to ride in the great seat.

Imaginary Conversation.
Persistent Borrower: I wonder what I could borrow five dollars.

Candid Friend: I don't know, but I tried asking strangers?

The only thing more irritating than "No Parking" sign is seeing a car parked there regardless.

It always is a little difficult to be listening to some people, that is, all things, including the visionary words of the speaker.

Statistical Note.
If the budget comes out even, there are times when we feel that an optimist who made up the federal budget did not bother to listen to the optimist coach has of the team.

There is no accounting for those who have heard people argue about the best to put on the lawn during the time.

DR. CADMAN WARNS AGAINST MAKING RELIGION MAIN ISSUE

Declares Candidate "Should Stand or Fall on His Character as a Man."

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The Rev. S. Parker Cadman, president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, in his weekly radio sermon warned against making religion the paramount issue in the presidential election.

"I venture to enter a sincere remonstrance against making any man's religion the first ground for his preference or rejection," Dr. Cadman said. "Be he Jew, Roman Catholic or Protestant, he should stand or fall on his character as a man, his gifts for the public service, his devotion to that service, and his actual experience of its nature and its demands. Once we go beyond these requirements we enter the arena of bitter, thankless and unproductive strife which settles nothing, upsets much and leaves behind it ruptures slow to heal and exceedingly detrimental to public sanity, solidarity and welfare. We must remain one people, with one law, one language, one mission and one destiny. Thank heavens, whichever presidential candidate is elected, a believing man will be in the White House."

Writer Liked the Menu And His Fellow Travelers On Board Graf Zeppelin

Delightful Sense of Camaraderie Developed Before Ship Was 10 Miles Out, John C. Ingram Says.

By JOHN C. INGRAM.
Only American Newspaper Man
Aboard the Graf Zeppelin on Its Trip From Lakehurst to Germany.

(Copyright, 1928.)

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Nov. 5.—They feed you fairly well on the Zeppelin. Three squares which fill the bill—with nobody doing any work such as would develop the appetite of a hay hand. Our breakfasts on the trip to Germany consisted of ham and scrambled eggs and sausage, rolls or toast and excellent coffee. There were a few complaints from some passengers about the condensed milk used in the coffee but to this reporter, who for four years battled around in Arizona mining camps and learned to love canned milk and case eggs, it left coffee really tasting like the kind mother tried to make.

But the saving grace which renders this confinement in cramped quarters not only possible but really somewhat delightful was the sense of camaraderie, which had developed before the big balloon ship was 10 miles out on its way. The average passenger on this trip is a sophisticated worldly sort of soul. Most of the passengers have gone places and done things in a big or little way for some years, and the majority of them are world travelers who have crossed the Atlantic many times.

What It Cost to Go Along.

It cost $2000 to come along as a passenger on this ship. Therefore one must reason that a person who can lay down $2000 claims for a trip to Europe must of necessity be a somewhat prosperous man of affairs whose broadened outlook on life makes him a dandy companion with whom to be locked up.

And now about drinking. Louis Sherry supplied food for this trip but I don't know who supplied liquor, but there was loads of it. Anything a person could want—champagne, Scotch, Rhine wine, port, sherry, muscatel, ale—all good old lawless stuff which we are accustomed to quaff in supposed stealth. Contrary to expectations, liquor was not a part of the regular provender of a steward's pantry, and it cost extra money. This champagne, vintage of 1925, cost three dollars a quart, with other liquors and wines correspondingly reasonable—about a New Yorker's viewpoint.

One enterprising Westerner came aboard with a hamper of bootleg liquor which he had picked up in New York City. When he opened the first bottle, he found it terrible and nobody would touch it. When I left the ship's cabin, the bottle of American moonshine liquor was lying in the corner just where the disgraced possessor had abandoned it after taking the first taste.

What the Traveler Sees.

When one hears the phrase—"flying across Atlantic"—he probably has some sort of a hazy conception as to what such a hop means. But one has actually to cross the ocean in this manner before it becomes apparent just what one sees and does and how the water looks and what such a hop means to a pilot shut up in a tiny frail airplane. There are moments when waters seem to reflect the spirit of benign friendship and then other moments when they hold a frowning menace, sort of daring our party to drop into it to see what would happen. Most of the way over the water was fairly calm and looked for all the world like a piece of roughly chiseled slate.

Cutting back to the moments we floated over New York City and its suburban square miles, there was presented a strangely beautiful scene as to what the voyager sailing across its environs in the early morning hours of stygian darkness when nearly all life had been lulled into deep slumber.

The Metropolitan Aspect.

Coming up from Lakehurst on the way to Germany, the Graf Zeppelin approached the metropolitan area of New York City and its suburban square miles, there was presented a strangely beautiful scene as to what the voyager sailing across its environs in the early morning hours of stygian darkness when nearly all life had been lulled into deep slumber.

Occasionally a furnace stack poured its red glare into the night from a mill or refinery. A ferry boat brilliantly lighted slowly moved from St. George to the Battery. There was the lower harbor—a flashing light out at Sandy Hook and Coney Island and Seagate Lights festooned like livid necklaces about the throat of Brooklyn. Miss Liberty looked small and sort of flattened out. Ellis Island seemed wrapped in deep sleep and only a few lights gleamed there. We slipped over darkened tips of the Singer and Woolworth Buildings. The beacon above Hotel St. George, in Brooklyn, gave the brightest light the writer ever saw.

BROTHERS CAUGHT IN THIRD ATTEMPT TO RUN AWAY

Harold and Eugene Jacobus, 14 and 11, Captured at Springfield, Mo.; Took Father's Auto.

The third attempt of Harold and Eugene Jacobus, 14 and 11 years old, to run away from their home at 947 Belt avenue and see the world, terminated in Springfield, Mo., yesterday when they were picked up by the Sheriff who communicated with their father, Ralph Jacobus.

The boys had been missing since Oct. 3 when they disappeared in their father's automobile. Jacobus left for Springfield today to bring the runaway home, telling police here that his sons' jaunt had come to grief against a viaduct near Neosho, Mo., in an accident that wrecked the machine.

Two years ago Harold and Eugene started to walk to Mexico because they did not "like the government in this country" and were found five hours later just outside the city limits. Last April, with 95 cents and a copy of Jules Verne's "Mysterious Island," they started on what was to have been a two-year hiking tour of the South. They were found a week later on a farm near Cedar Hill, Jefferson County, and were put under probation with orders to report every week to a police sergeant.

RECIPES FOR SOME SEASONABLE DISHES

Made With Canned Fruits and Vegetables From the Pantry Shelf.

American housewives are becoming more and more dependent on canned fruits, vegetables and soups as the years roll by. One reason is that the commercial canners offer such excellent canned goods. Another reason is that almost all recipes for modern cookery are gotten up with the thought that the canned article and the fresh article are interchangeable.

The following recipes introduce several delightful ways of using canned fruits and vegetables.

Peach Salad.

Drain and chill one can of peaches. Place the halves on lettuce leaves and fill the centers with chopped celery and salted almonds mixed with whipped cream.

Asparagus With Butter.

Turn canned asparagus and liquid into a shallow pan so that stalks will lie lengthwise. Heat over a low fire until thoroughly hot. Drain and serve with brown butter sauce. Put three tablespoons butter into a small saucepan. Place over a low fire until melted, then increase heat slightly and cook until golden brown. You will have to watch this closely for after butter melts it will brown very quickly and spoil if allowed to become too brown. This sauce is a fine flavor.

Canned Corn Souffle.

For corn souffle, use two cups of corn, add yolks of three eggs, one tablespoon of flour, one cup of heavy cream, salt and pepper to taste, and last, the stiffly beaten whites of the three eggs. Pour into a buttered casserole and bake slowly for one hour.

Peas and Carrots.

Scrape and cook carrots in boiling salted water until tender. Drain well, add one cup drained canned peas. Combine with one and one-half cups well-seasoned white sauce.

Red Cherry Sponge.

Soak one and one-half tablespoons gelatin in two tablespoons cold water five minutes. Drain juice from can red pitted cherries. Bring to boiling point and pour over gelatin. When dissolved, add cherries. Cool, and when beginning to thicken, fold in stiffly-beaten whites of two eggs. Mold in individual dishes and chill. Serve unmolded with yellow custard made from two egg yolks.

SUCCESSFUL CAKE BAKERS

OBSERVE THESE RULES

When Directions Are Closely Followed a Good Cake Is Assured.

All measurements should be level and all flour sifted once before measuring.

Flour should be put into measuring cup lightly with a tablespoon and leveled off with the edge of a knife or spatula. Do not strike side or edge of cup when filling it.

Cake batter should not be beaten after flour is added, as beating toughens the gluten and makes the cake coarse.

Pastry flour should be used for all cakes as it makes a finer grain and the cake is more tender than if ordinary wheat flour is used.

Chow Mein Noodles

Add Fruits to the Diet.

Fresh, dried, raw, or cooked, they are an invaluable part of the diet. Fresh fruits are to be carefully washed, and for little children the skins removed. Where there is no skin the fruit is to be well mashed. Adults may usually eat the skins of apples, pears, grapes, etc., as they help add the necessary bulk or cellulose to the food supply.

Another Use for Cornmeal.
When making soup, try adding a small quantity of cereal as thickener. It gives a pleasant flavor and adds so much whole cereal to the diet and is especially desirable for children who rebel against cereals demanded for health.

A COMPANY LUNCHEON FOR AN AUTUMN DAY

Serve Dishes Prepared Beforehand and a Few Last-Minute Delicacies.

Many women find it particularly difficult to plan unusual or especially attractive luncheon menus without assistance. Usually they find such luncheons more of a problem than the planning of dinners. For such a following menu and suggestions will undoubtedly prove helpful. The menu is well adapted to the time of year and is varied so far as flavors and consistency of foods are concerned. Cream of mushroom soup with saltines.

Cheese soufflé Braised celery Hot biscuits Dressed lettuce Ice cream sandwiches Coffee

This can be prepared by a little planning without outside assistance. The mushroom soup will keep warm in a double boiler for an hour or so without harm. The soufflé and celery and the biscuits are all cooked in the same oven, the celery and the biscuits being prepared very early in the day and kept in a cool place until ready to cook.

The lettuce is dressed with a simple French dressing; the ice cream, for convenience, is of the ready-made variety and made into sandwiches by placing it between layers of sponge or layer cake either of the home-made or commercial variety. A fruit sauce served with this adds to the flavor and attractiveness of the meal without adding greatly to the trouble of preparation.

The mushroom soup for eight servings will require one-half pound of mushrooms if the fresh ones are used or one can, if the canned sort are used. Peel the fresh mushrooms and cut off the stems. Put the stems and the peelings in a saucepan with two cups of water and a thin slice of onion. One stalk of celery and cook slowly for 25 to 30 minutes. This can, if necessary, be done the day before.

Strain and add two cups of chicken stock or two cups of hot water in which two chicken bouillon cubes are dissolved. Add the mushrooms chopped fine and simmer for five minutes. Then add two cups of milk, one tablespoon of butter, three tablespoons of flour mixed to a smooth paste with a little cold water. Cook the mixture until it thickens, season to taste with salt and white pepper and serve in bouillon cups with a sprig of parsley in each cup or with a spoon of whipped, unsweetened cream. Crisp saltine crackers accompany the soup.

For the braised celery, enough for eight servings, wash two bunches of celery hearts and split each stalk in half lengthwise. Trim the celery to fit the baking dish, putting it in layers. Dot with two tablespoons of butter or sprinkle lightly with salt, add three tablespoons of water or enough to cover the bottom of the dish. Cover the dish and bake in a moderate oven—375 degrees—for one hour. Then increase the heat to 400 degrees; put in the biscuits and continue cooking for 20 minutes longer.

The cheese soufflé should be baked in a shallow baking dish in a hot oven for 20 to 25 minutes. The lettuce should be well washed, then put in a bag on the ice and left to crisp for several hours. It is most attractive when tossed in a bowl at the table with a well prepared, well flavored dressing. The tartness of the French dressing gives just the needed touch to the cheese and the celery.

OMELETS HAVE ADVANCED TO REAL COMPANY DISHES

Formerly They Graced the Breakfast Table. Now We Serve Them for Dessert.

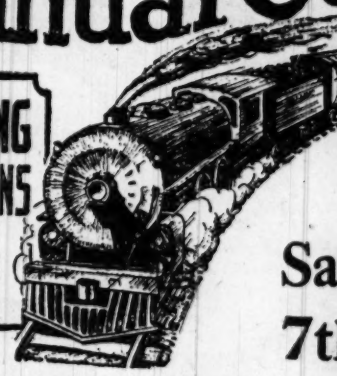

One of the quickest substantial luncheon dishes that can be made is an omelet. A pineapple omelet is a delightful novelty. Make the omelet in the usual way, and when it is ready to be folded, lay slices of pineapple or well-drained crushed pineapple on half of it. Fold over, and serve immediately.

Should anyone like the recipe for the omelet here it is: Add one-quarter teaspoon salt to four eggs and beat until light. Add three tablespoons hot water. Melt one tablespoon butter in a frying-pan and turn in the mixture. Cook slowly.

Orange Omelet. To make an orange omelet take one egg, few grains orange rind, one tablespoon orange juice, few grains salt, one orange, two teaspoons butter, two teaspoons powdered sugar. Beat the egg slightly, adding the orange rind and juice and salt. Peel the orange, removing all white membrane, and cut into very thin slices. Sprinkle with one teaspoon of the powdered sugar. Melt the butter in hot individual omelet pan or frying pan. Pour in the egg mixture and cook over a low heat, shaking the pan and pricking the mixture with a fork until all the mixture is cooked. Roll or fold and turn out onto serving dish. Sprinkle with remaining sugar and surround with slices of orange.

FOR PERFECT ANGEL CAKE

You will have no difficulty in making perfect angel food if you keep in mind these points: Eggs should be folded, not stirred. In should be two or three days old. The egg whites should be beaten stiff enough to hold up in peaks, but not dry, and the dry ingredients should be folded, not stirred. In Insufficient beating of the eggs or insufficient folding in of flour and sugar will result in a coarse grained cake. Then be sure not to let your oven get too hot.

For a Pleasing Flavor. A few pieces of dried yellow rind of an orange kept in your tea canister will give your tea a delicious fragrance and flavor.

Ice Cream Sauce. Mix one cup each of crushed pineapple, sugar and water. Boil fifteen minutes, chill and serve on vanilla ice cream.

Kroger Coffee

from where it grows to where it goes

The chances are greatly in favor of getting more satisfaction and better value at Kroger's. More people find this out every day.

ITALY OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY OF ARMISTICE DAY

70,000 Veterans Parade in Rome in Celebration of End of War and Victory Over Austria.

PREMIER MUSSOLINI ADDRESSES CROWD

Pays Tribute to Soldiers — King and Queen Cheered by Throngs Gathered Around Palace.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, Nov. 5.—All Italy celebrated yesterday the tenth anniversary of its Armistice day and its victory over Austria in the battle of Vittorio Veneto. Enthusiasm was no where greater than in Rome, where 70,000 veterans and disabled soldiers took part in the parades and exercises.

From the early hours of the morning the streets rang with the music of patriotic hymns. At 9 a. m. King Victor Emmanuel dedicated the "Mother House of the War Wounded" as a permanent memorial to their sacrifice. Then came the parade to the Piazza Venezia along streets lined with Fascist associations and organizations and with airplanes roaring overhead.

Speaking from the balcony of the palace overlooking the square, Premier Mussolini paid tribute to those who fought for Italy in the World War, those who stood before him and those who had never returned from the battlefields. At the conclusion of his speech he asked "if it is necessary, will you do tomorrow what you have done, what we did together, yesterday?" The immense throng of veterans raised their arms in roman salute, waved their banners and replied with a resounding "Yes!"

From the Piazza Venezia the column of veterans made its way slowly up the Via Nazionale to the church of Santa Maria Degli Angeli, where lie the remains of Marshal Armando Diaz, Italy's "Duke of Victory." There the men he commanded 10 years ago silently dropped their wreaths as they filed past his tomb.

In the early evening citizens of all classes joined in a tribute to their king. They massed in front of the Quirinal Palace, on the hill of that name, until the King and Queen had twice appeared on the balcony in response to their ringing cheers. With the rulers appeared Secretary Turati of the Fascist party and Deputy Del Crois, who was blinded in the war. King Victor Emmanuel smiled as he saluted in response to the cheers. Mussolini said that the celebration had no need of words. He reminded them that the war was not imposed on the people of Italy by a sudden aggression, but that they entered it with the allies deliberately the cost of their consciences. The Italian campaign particularly during the early days, was at once terrible and sublime because of its casualties; 600,000 dead, 400,000 disabled and 1,000,000 wounded.

"One can assert," he said, "that more than 2,000,000 Italians poured out their blood to give birth to what has arisen from their sacrifice—a new Italy."

The Premier said that, while it was true the allies had sent some divisions to Italy, it also was true that in May, 1918, she had given the allies her entire army. "After our great victory," he went on, "there was a period of uncertainty during which we suffered greatly, but men came who seized the flag of victory in a strong hand and in October, 1918, victory was redeemed for all time."

From the war and the revolution of the "black shirts," he concluded, there emerged at last from the Alps to Sicily a single people, one in spirit and discipline, to make greater and more powerful the country.

Lessons from Life No. 19

The Executor Was an Able Man
~but Short on Details

THE estate was a substantial one. A life-long friend had been appointed executor for two reasons: First, because he was such an able business man, and, second, with the idea of saving expense.

Without doubt this friend was an able man, a constructive planner, a forceful executive. There was only one thing—he was deficient in details, and the handling of an estate involves a mass of them.

Claims of the estate were not properly pressed. Some unjust claims against the estate were allowed because of insufficient investigation, coupons were not cashed promptly, called bonds went unnoticed, stock rights went unexercised. Even valuable papers were lost. The estate suffered losses from lack of attention.

As to the cost: In addition to the loss that resulted from inefficiency, the executor found it necessary to hire much of the work done at the expense of the estate. And in the final settlement, the court allowed the executor the same statutory fee as would have gone to a trust company.

So the executorship was much more expensive than if a trust company with its executives for major problems and its organization for details had been appointed.

Our Trust Officers will gladly consult with you and your attorney concerning your own estate problems.

VOTERS, ATTENTION!

During a presidential campaign the importance of local offices is often underestimated by the voters. This is especially true of the judiciary.

As members of the Bar, interested in a fearless and able judiciary, we recommend for your consideration Circuit Judges Hamilton and Calhoun, candidates for re-election and leaders in the recent non-partisan Bar Association referendum.

They have served you faithfully as Circuit Judges for many years and have demonstrated their thorough fitness for judicial service. We therefore earnestly solicit your careful consideration of their respective candidacies.

If you vote the straight Republican Ticket and X mark above the Republican column will give them your vote; but if you vote the Democratic ticket and desire to vote for them, place an X in the square before the respective names of JOHN W. CALHOUN and H. A. HAMILTON and draw a line through the names of each of two Democratic nominees for Circuit Judge whom you decide to scratch.

WOMAN FLYER, HURT, GETS AID FOR COMRADE

Walks 18 Miles With Fractured Ribs After Plane Crash in Pennsylvania.

By the Associated Press.

BRADFORD, Pa., Nov. 5.—Having walked 18 miles through woods, notwithstanding fractured ribs, Miss Helen Crandall of Alfred, N. Y., who owns and operates an airplane, was under the care of physicians today.

She walked the 18 miles to get aid for her co-pilot, George Eyer of Hornell, N. Y., who was injured when her plane crashed in a forest eight miles from here. It was near dark when the plane fell. Eyer, his skull fractured, was caught in the wreckage.

Miss Crandall fought her way through thick underbrush which tore at her clothes and sapped her strength. She knew that finding the way back to the woods might be difficult so she walked she tore pieces from her clothes and tied them to tree branches.

Finally she found a farmhouse. Back through rain and forest she led five men, her way marked by the fluttering bits of cloth. The rescuers removed Eyer on a rude litter.

It was yesterday afternoon when they reached the farmhouse, whence an automobile took both flyers to a Bradford hospital. The plane was on the way from Oil City, Pa., to Hornell, N. Y., when it crashed.

Vote "YES" Scratch "NO" Proposition No. 2 ELECTION NOVEMBER 6

ST. LOUIS POLICE PENSION LAW

Provides for widows and orphans of policemen who die in performance of duty and for disabled and veteran policemen

Your Vote is Needed!

Must be voted upon by entire State — Applies only to St. Louis

A POLICE pension system is needed at once to enable more efficient administration of the department and in fairness to policemen and their families.

Police work is extra-hazardous—so much so that insurance rates are practically prohibitive. Police salaries always have been comparatively low. Few months pass without some member of the force being killed or permanently disabled. St. Louis is the only city of its size without a police pension system to provide for disabled and veteran policemen and widows and orphans of deceased policemen.

Proposition No. 2 was drafted after careful consideration of various types of pension systems. The system proposed is the same type of system which is operating successfully in more than forty other cities of the country. It offers an immediate solution of a problem St. Louis has too long neglected. It may be amended by the Legislature at any time in the future, if it is deemed advisable to make a change.

Funds for support of the system will be derived from a 2% monthly assessment against the salaries of policemen, from certain fees and rewards and from an annual appropriation of $150,000 by the city of St. Louis.

Missouri voters by an overwhelming majority, adopted a Constitutional Amendment two years ago to permit police pensions. FINISH THE JOB—by voting "YES" on Proposition No. 2.

Proposition No. 2 is Indorsed by Republican and Democratic State Platforms and by the St. Louis Board of Police Commissioners, the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, St. Louis Safety Council, Missouri Federation of Labor, St. Louis Central Trades and Labor Union, Missouri Farmers' Association, County Judges Association of Missouri, by a Committee of 330 prominent persons representing every section of Missouri and numerous other organizations.

GRAF ZEPPELIN

HAILED WILDLY ON

ARRIVAL IN BERLIN

Crew and Passengers Who

Crossed Atlantic in Dirigible on Return Fly to German Capital.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—President von

Hindenburg today received the crew of the Graf Zeppelin and the three American naval officers who made the return flight on the dirigible, bringing to a climax festivities in honor of a visit from Friedrichshafen to Berlin made by the dirigible over the week-end.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, the crew and the American officers were driven

in special cars through decorated streets to the executive mansion, where Dr. Eckener introduced the three Americans, each of whom the President greeted with a comrade-ly handshake. The American officers were Commander Maurice R.

Pierce, Lieut. T. G. W. Settle and

Lieut. Charles E. Bauch.

President von Hindenburg thanked the crew in the name of the German people for their accomplishment under the greatest adversities and expressed the hope that they would continue in "uniting nations."

Manipulating the new anchomast at Staaken turned out to be a more difficult matter than had been expected. For almost an hour one unsuccessful attempt

after another was made to anchor

the dirigible. This was finally accomplished at 9:45 o'clock this morning.

The impetuous crowds lost patience during the mooring and broke down solid fences, scattering over the vast field. They were promptly charged by mounted police and driven back.

One of the first to disembark

was Mrs. Clara Adams of Tannersville, Pa., the only woman passenger on the Graf Zeppelin's trans-Atlantic return flight. She was awaited by friends and left in a private car.

After the disembarkation the other passengers, with the crew and officers, were escorted over the field by Government officials to a reception stand where they were greeted by Dr. von Gueraud,

Minister of Transportation, and other officials.

Long before the scheduled arrival of the Zeppelin a vast multitude had gathered at the Staaken airfield. Despite a drizzling rain, school children with their teachers turned out in great numbers to honor the great ship.

The airship, which left Friedrichshafen at 2:17 a. m. (7:17 p.

m., St. Louis time), reached the outer city limits of Berlin shortly before 9 o'clock. It cruised over the city for a half an hour. Then after Berlin had had an opportunity to see the air giant, Dr.

Hugo Eckener, the commander and builder, turned the dirigible's blunt nose toward the airfield

at Staaken, a suburb.

ILLINOIS BROKER INDICTED

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Nov. 5.—

The September grand jury Saturday reported the indictment of

Ernest H. Wichelman, member of the brokerage firm of Saylor and Wichelman, charging embezzlement. Wichelman is charged with having converted $3225 entrusted to him by Mrs. Fannie Gellerman

of this city for investment to his own use. Recently when the firm, which had offices in Davenport and Rock Island, went into bankruptcy,

the charge was filed and Wichel-man was arrested in Davenport and released on $5000 bond.

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS

Should the voter desire to vote a "straight" party ticket he shall place a cross (X) mark in the circle immediately below the party name. If the voter desires to vote for one or more candidates on more than one party ticket, by voting what is commonly called a "split ticket" he may place a cross (X) mark in the circle immediately below one party name and mark cross (X) marks in the squares at the right of the names of candidates on other tickets for whom he desires to vote. If the voter desires to vote for one or more candidates whose names do not appear on the printed ballot, he may do so by drawing a line through the printed name of candidate for such office, and writing below the name the name of the person for whom he desires to vote, and placing a cross mark in the square at the left of such name. Where there are two or more candidates for like office in a party, a cross (X) mark in the square to the left of a candidate's name, automatically votes against all candidates whose names appear within the same horizontal lines in the column under the circle in which the cross (X) mark is placed. All candidates of the party whose circle is marked in this manner shall be counted as voted for excepting where squares are crossed preceding the names of the candidates in other columns. If two or more candidates for the same office are thus designated, neither shall be counted. If the cross (X) is not placed in the circle immediately below the party name at the head of the column, but does appear in the squares opposite the various candidates' names, then only those names shall be counted for, and none other. A cross (X) mark in any line crossing any other line at any angle within the voting space, and no ballot shall be declared void because a cross (X) mark therein is irregular in form. It shall not be lawful to deface or tear a ballot in any manner nor to erase any printed name "except as provided above in this section." Figures, words or letters, nor to erase any mark made thereon by such voter, nor incise in the folded ballot any other paper or any article. If the voter defaces or tears a ballot, or wrongly marks the name or mark of a candidate, or erases any printed name "except as provided above in this section," figures, words or letters, or wrongly marks, a ballot placed in the ballot box without any mark shall not be counted. Ballots shall be counted only for the person for whom the marks thereon are applicable; when a voter shall place a mark against two or more names for the same office, and only one candidate is to be chosen for the office, none of the candidates shall be deemed to have been voted for and the ballots shall not be counted for either such candidates. Before leaving the booth the voter shall fold his ballot in such manner as to conceal his marks thereon. He shall mark his ballot without undue delay. He shall then hand the ballot to the judge of election selected to take ballots, who shall number the ballot and deposit it in the ballot box. The voter shall quit and leave the voting booth as soon as possible.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned, composing the Board of Election Commissioners for the City of St. Louis, Missouri, have caused this notice to be signed and the official seal of the office affixed at office in St. Louis, this 29th day of October, 1923.

MAN SAVED FROM RIVER BY SON, BUT DIES LATER

Pneumonia and Exposure Fatal to Everett Byrd, 46, After Skiff Capsizes.

Everett Byrd, 46 years old, a laborer, died at his home at Centaur, St. Louis County, yesterday morning of pneumonia and exposure four hours after he was rescued from the Missouri River by his son, Clifton Byrd, 23, when their skiff capsized.

Byrd and his son had been to an island opposite Centaur Saturday night to look after live decoy ducks. They started for home about 9:30 o'clock in a rowboat and were about 150 feet from the St. Louis County shore when the boat upset. The elder Byrd, weighted down by hip boots and a sheepskin coat, clung to the boat while his son, swimming behind, pushed it and his father to shore. Byrd was carried home by his son and a call was sent for a physician, but Byrd died before medical aid arrived.

An autopsy disclosed that Byrd's lungs contained water, which, with exposure, caused lobar pneumonia.

SEVEN OF 31 TEXAS CONVICTS WHO ESCAPED ARE CAPTURED

Posses With Three Packs of Bloodhounds Seek Fugitives in Wild Bottom Lands.

By the Associated Press.

FREEPORT, Tex., Nov. 5.—Aided by three packs of bloodhounds, posses today were roundings up the 31 prisoners who escaped from the Clemens State prison farm near here last night by sawing a hole in the wall of the barracks in which they were confined.

Seven of the convicts were captured before dawn, and prison officials directing the man hunt in the wild Brazoria County bottom lands expressed confidence that all of the escaped men would be taken.

The prisoners allayed the suspicion of guards and drowned out the noise of the sawing by singing sentimental melodies to the accompaniment of a guitar. The break was not discovered for 15 minutes after the last man had crawled through the opening in the wall to liberty. Twenty-one other prisoners made no attempt to escape.

The break, one of many successfully carried out recently at Texas prison farms, occurred half an hour after W. H. Mead of Houston, general manager of the State prison system, had concluded an inspection.

"It wouldn't surprise me at any time to hear that all of the convicts left here on short notice," Mead remarked after noting the farm's weaknesses.

ONE BILLIKEN IN HOSPITAL, TEAM UNABLE TO HOLD PRACTICE

COACH IS GLAD 6-YEAR CONTRACT WITH DETROIT HAS EXPIRED

By Gerald Holland.

The statement of Coach Dorais of the Detroit University football team that he would suggest to his athletic board that the St. Louis University be dropped from next year's schedule was received by Hearty Anderson, the Billiken coach, with a loud and prolonged howl today.

"Detroit can consider itself dropped already," Anderson said this morning. "I had definitely decided that immediately after next game. Take a look at my battered squad this morning and then try to figure out how a 195-pound team can accuse our 170-pound boys of rough tactics. Three men are seriously injured and the rest are bruised pretty badly. There is no doubt that some of the men were put out deliberately. And by a team that was easily good enough to beat us by clean, straight football."

Billikens Badly Battered.

The Billikens are indeed battered. So badly, in fact, that Anderson was forced to call off today's practice. It is the first time that the Billikens have missed their daily workout all season.

"Snakes" Gazelle, who alternates with Joe Lintzenich at fullback, is in St. John's Hospital with an internal injury that may prove serious and is certain to keep him out of action for 10 days or more. Joe Lintzenich has a shoulder injury that is expected to keep him out of the Loyola game Saturday. Ed Brown, the 150- and guard, has a nose injury and is also likely to be inactive for a week. Capt. Dirmberger bears the mark of a cleat on his eye, although it is not a serious cut.

According to members of the squad, the Detroit players started the game with the intention of putting out five of the Billikens' best men. Lintzenich and Gazelle, the then Dirmberger and Gazelle. The fourth to go out was Ed Brown, whom Billiken players assert Detroit mistook for Ford Brown, the end, who does the punting for Anderson's team.

Dorais' Statement.

Coach Dorais, in his statement at Detroit, spoke as follows: "Games of that type are neither team nor individual. They are a working out of the team's ability to win. We have been working too hard to build a reputation for clean play and sportsmanship to take any further chances with teams such as St. Louis."

Anderson stated that Saturday's game was not the first instance of Detroit's rough tactics. His schedule this season, he said, indicated something of that nature, both Army and Notre Dame having dropped the Titans this season. Anderson also called attention to the fact that Harvey Brown, an assistant coach at St. Louis University who aided Anderson in the Billikens' spring training early this year, scouted the Creighton game and mingled in the club house with the Billiken players, who now believe Detroit knew every St. Louis play. Anderson also declared that he did not think it was good sportsmanship for a coach to go on the field to protest a decision when his team was leading 20-0. This Dorais did in the six-year contract has expired.

The six-year contract between the two schools expired this year. Detroit won all of the games with the Billikens.

Loyola University of Chicago will be the Billikens' opponent at Sportsman's Park this week. Loyola's record for this season includes a 26-0 victory over Lombard College, a 12-7 defeat by Dayton U. which held Detroit to a 7-0 score, and a 6-0 defeat by the Haskell Indians. Loyola lost to the Billikens at Chicago last year by a 19-0 score.

De Buzet Wins French Net Title In Secret Match

PARIS, Nov. 5. — RENE DE BUZELET, who campaigned in the United States last summer, yesterday won the annual covered courts tennis championship of France but the general public was not there to see it.

Spectators not only were not invited but were refused admittance. Officials of the tournament decided to defeat the tax collectors who insist on levying 2 1/2 per cent of the gross receipts of tennis matches, by holding the championships in "secret." The general public did not even know the tournament was being conducted until announcement was made that De Buzet had defeated Charles Auguste, 6-4, 6-1, 6-3, in the final round.

Mme. Golding, long ranked just below Suzanne Lenglen, won the women's title by defeating Mme. Kleinadel, 6-0, 6-2. France's famous "musketiers," Henri Cochet, Rene Lacoste, Jacques Brugnon and Jean Borotra were missing. Lacoste is in the United States but the others saw no fun in playing before empty seats.

Important Contests Are Scheduled in Three High School Leagues This Week

By Harold Tuthill.

It is almost certain that the possible contenders for the championship of the City High School Football League will be narrowed down to two teams Saturday, when two of the leaders, Soldan and Beaumont, meet in the opening game of the afternoon. The supremacy of the South Side will be at stake when Cleveland and Roosevelt meet in the second contest.

Beaumont's debut last week indicated that the North Siders have a team to be reckoned with and that Soldan will have no easy task disposing of Coach Lewis' team. Conspicuous in Beaumont's opening 12-0 defeat of Cleveland was the playing of Carl Deidner. It will be interesting to watch the work of Weidner against the strategy used by Dave Cook. Soldan quarterback.

There is one weakness about Coach Jim Cook's Soldan eleven that has been apparent in the first two games. That is that at times the Soldan line is woefully weak against plunges. This is probably due to inexperience. After losing two decisions Cleveland and Central might as well be counted out of this year's race and begin preparations for next season. Either of those teams can throw the race into a middle sized Cleveland has yet to play Roosevelt and Central is to play Beaumont in the last game of the season.

That Bert Fenenga is dissatisfied with the showing of his squad would be stating the case mildly. It is probable that all of Cleveland's upper classmen will be asked to turn in their uniforms this week and that Fenenga will drill the candidates for next year's squad.

Herskovitz' leg injury will probably force the Central star out for the rest of the season. Herskovitz may recover by the time Central re-enters league competition which will be on Nov. 17. While there is no direct ruling in the rule book on the play that occurred in the Cleveland-Beaumont game, yet the ruling on an out-of-bounds ball decided the dispute. Rule 13, Section 8, paragraph "b" in Spalding's guide states: "A ball which is fumbled in the field of play and which then goes out of bounds before crossing a goal line shall belong to side whose player last touched it in the field, at the point where it was last so touched."

This would make Cleveland's possession of the ball perfectly legal as Cianciola blocked Weidner's kick before the ball went out of bounds. At the time, Beaumont was punting from its 25-yard line and Cleveland's recovery made the out-look promising for the South Siders in the third quarter. However, no scoring was done in the second half of the game, by either team.

MEN'S MUNY BASKET LEAGUE MEETING IS SCHEDULED THURSDAY

An organization meeting of the Men's Municipal Basketball League will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. at the Sherman Park Community Center, Kingshighway and Easton avenue, when plans for the season will be worked out. Application blanks will be given to representatives of teams desiring admission into the league. The league schedule will begin late this month or early in December.

GRANITE CITY PLAYER, WITH 37 POINTS, LEADS CONFERENCE SCORERS

The Granite City football star, Tom Wilson, fullback, leads the scorers in the Southwestern Illinois conference race, with 37 points, closely followed by a teammate, "Red" Collin, halfback, with 35 points. Other players are far in the rear.

In games this week-end, Granite City will play at Alton, Wood River goes to Belleville, Edwardsville is scheduled at Collinsville, and East St. Louis will journey to Quincy, in a nonconference game.

SHIKAT AND EUSTACE WRESTLE NEXT WEEK

Falling in his efforts to swing Dick Daviscourt into line for a return bout with Roy Steele on next Monday night's wrestling card at the New Coliseum arena, Promoter Tom Packs has abandoned his negotiations with the headlock artist and has signed Dick Shikat, the German heavyweight title claimant, to meet Alton Eustace of Winfield, Kan., in the main event.

Shikat faces a more experienced grappler in Eustace than he did in either of his previous local engagements. The Kansas heavyweight is built along the same rangy physical lines as the big German grappler and each weighs around 220 pounds.

Ernest Lubine, a 225-pound Finn, who has confined his activities to Eastern mat circles since his arrival in the United States several months ago, will be introduced to local fans in a preliminary feature of next week's show. Packs stated that he is trying to sign Joe "Toots" Mondt, Colorado heavyweight, to match grips with Lubine. Mondt defeated Joe Zigmond and Scotty McDougal in his previous local bouts.

The only nonleague game brings together Clayton and Webster at the Webster grounds. The odds are all in favor of Robert's boys, as they will outweigh their opponents and appear to be too shifty for Coach Hall's green team.

PAULINO RULES AS FAVORITE TO BEAT VON PORAT

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Otto von Porat, Norway's contribution to the heavyweights, will have a chance tonight to demonstrate whether his punching prowess is all it's cracked up to be. The Norwegian meets Paulino Uscudun, chunky Basque woodchopper, in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

Otto has been gaily bowling over everything fired at him in Chicago rings but he has yet to battle anyone as tough as Paulino.

Paulino has met hitters before and outside of a grunt or two the Spaniard never seemed particularly bothered by them. The chances are von Porat will see more elbows tonight than he ever saw in one 10-round fight before.

The experts think that if there is any wood chopping done, Paulino will do it and are backing their opinion at from 5 to 5 to 2 to 1.

The sentimental brinks into one C. B. C. and the same ring Tiny Roebuck, Choctaw Indian behemoth, and Arthur Dekuh of Italy, who grosses around 200 pounds. At that, Dekuh will be "conceding" about 20 pounds to Roebuck.

EDGEMONTS DEFEAT MADISONS, 4 TO 2, IN EAST ST. LOUIS SOCCER

The leading Edgemonts are still unbeaten in the East St. Louis Municipal Soccer League race, as a result of defeating the Madisons yesterday afternoon at Jones' Park. 4 to 2, for their third straight victory. In the other league game, the Slacks and the Waverlys played to a 2 to 2 tie.

The Slacks and the Waverlys each have won victory, one defeat and one tie, while the Madisons have lost three games in a row. Next week the Edgemonts will meet the Waverlys and the Slacks will go against the Madisons.

WHITTAKER, KURZ AND HORNSBY TO FACE DRAKE

By Jerry Bernoudy.

Having played five non-conference battles Washington University's ill-fated football team will give its attention to Missouri Valley competition for the coming two weeks, Saturday, the Bears will go to Des Moines to meet the Drake Bulldogs, proud conquerors of Missouri, in their second and final out of town game of the season. The following week, Grinnell will call at Francis Field for the local's homecoming celebration.

Despite the fact that the Bears have scored only one triumph it was plainly apparent to those who viewed Saturday's game with the Indians that Dr. Sharpe has developed a team superior to any that has represented Washington in several years. The performance of the red and green forward wall was particularly noteworthy against the Redskins and certainly dispelled the theory that Washington was only a three-quarter team. The outstanding weakness in the Haskell game, in almost every other contest, was the lack of some back capable of advancing the ball when in a scoring position.

In Drake, the Bears are going to meet an opponent fully as tough as any they have played this season. The Bulldog victory over the Tigers on the Missouri's home field is ample evidence of this fact, and although the winning touchdown was made possible through a fumble, the statistics of the battle point out that it was a clean-cut victory for the Iowa aggregation.

Teams Evenly Matched.

Granting the futility of comparative scores as a means of predicting results of football games, it might be interesting, nevertheless, to attempt to compare Washington and Drake on this basis in a rather roundabout manner. Kansas and Washington fought each other to a 7-7 tie on Oct. 13. Saturday the Jayhawkers were downed 20-0 by Nebraska when the Cornhuskers finished strong in the second half. A week before the same Nebraska eleven trounced Missouri 24-0, and then Saturday Drake defeated the Tigers, 6-0.

From all of which we might derive the conclusion that the two teams, Washington and Drake, are evenly matched, there being a slight balance of two points in favor of the Bulldogs.

Physical condition, playing conditions, and above all the morale of the opposing eleven are of course going to be the determining factors in Saturday's game with Drake, and it is for that reason that the above figures are significant only in that they indicate that a close game is probable. Dr. None lasted three rounds.

Callahan Meets Showers.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Smuffie Callahan, Chicago Heights middleweight, with a devastating wallop, meets Billy Showers of Chicago in a 10-round bout tonight. Since the death of "Dad" Van Meter, Showers has been the most feared of the city's prizefighters. Callahan has stowed away three opponents, none lasted three rounds.

Football Races At a Glance

By the Associated Press.

EAST—West Point, Georgetown and Carnegie lead reduced list of unbeaten and untied teams, which also includes Boston College and Villanova. New York University's first reversal suffered at hands of Georgetown in main upset.

WESTERN CONFERENCE—BIG TEN—Illinois, 1927 champion, eliminated by Michigan, which scored first victory of season in major form reversal. Iowa and Ohio State, two remaining teams with clean conference slates, battle this week.

MISSOURI VALLEY—"BIG SIX"—Nebraska, adding Kansas' scalp to those of Iowa State and Missouri, holds undisputed and apparently secure lead. Oklahoma eliminated by Iowa State, and Missouri upset by former conference rival, Drake.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE—Clemson, after six straight victories, swamped by University of Mississippi and dropped from lead-sharing group, now including Georgia Tech, Tennessee, Florida, Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt meet this week, so do Florida and Georgia.

SOUTHWESTERN CONFERENCE—Southern Methodist assumes undisputed lead by overthrowing University of Texas. Texas Christian, after six-game winning streak, upset by Baylor.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN CONFERENCE—University of Utah, 1926 titleholder, clinched undisputed place at top by downing Colorado College after previously beating two other contenders, Colorado Aggies and University of Colorado.

PACIFIC COAST CONFERENCE—Stanford's title hopes upset by Southern California's victory. U. S. C. and California, which played scoreless tie, now share lead, latter adding scalp of Oregon to collection.

Sharpe will face a task this week to sustain the spirit of his players after two unfortunate setbacks.

Scott Hornsby, left halfback, was the only Bear injured in the Haskell game, and Trainer De Victor stated that the jolt which he received to his back was not of a serious nature, and that the Bruin punter would be ready to play against Drake. Ted Whittaker and Ralph Kurz who missed all of the Indian battle, with the exception of a very few minutes that the Bears fullback played, have practically recovered from their injuries, and will take part in regular practice this week.

HOLE IN ONE AID TO SMITH LANDING FIRE PLACE IN EV

By the Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 5.—Horton Smith, the young golfer from Joplin, Mo., who has a record of championship golf and a command, found a hole-in-one in winning the annual Joplin City open golf tournament here yesterday.

The final 36 holes of play in the tournament, the first of a campaign for the Joplin Links, was over the Oklahoma Golf and Country Club course. The big piece of human machinery took first money, $1000, with a total 72-hole score of 238, one shot better than the card turned in by Ed J. Hooton, another behemoth of the links.

The ace, scored on the hole of the afternoon round the Joplin boy a lead that was not to be overcome despite a sensational 62 on his second round the course today.

Horton's 100-to-1 cup shot was a 119-yard hole. His mashie hit over the pitch and hit about 20 feet from the hole, dribbled for the can and, nose dive, as the gallery of more than 1000 onlookers, Hooton just smiled. It was the end of a hole that he had scored.

The 20-year-old chap was knocking at the door of big play continued his assault on after leading the field by five strokes with a card of 61 at the first day's play.

Next to Dudley who started winter season with $700 a week, came Tommy Armour, Scottish master with the iron, scored 232. The temperamental Tommy, of Chicago, worked a masterful style but he could conquer an unruly putter. 1227 National open champion, a 148 card at the end of the 36 holes of play for second place. However, Dudley started a hole in the afternoon, overtook the Washington player, the eighth hole. Armour won.

Two St. Louisans in the final of the recent National G. A. meet came in fourth and fifth, with scores of 274 and 276. Willie McMillen of New York needed more strokes than Espinosa, fifth place and $200.

Sixth place honors went to Mathews of Kansas City with 262 strokes while back of him Bob MacDonell of Chicago, 265. Dave Truflitt, Wichita, once Clarke, Tulsa. Tony McHenry, John Manion, St. Ben Richter, St. Louis. George Tula, and Mike Murra. (a, finished in the money in the der named.

Clarance Clarke, the long Tulsa pro, was out in 31 and in 17 shots yesterday afternoon, a 58, the best 18 hole score in tournament.

The two had tied with scores of 294 in the 72 holes of the tournament play last week, but yesterday Hunter won by a two-stroke margin, finishing 75-73-143. Morrison's card was 75-73-151.

Coaches' Hardest Task Is Keeping Eleven at Top Speed, Warner Says

By Glenn Warner.

Football Coach, Stanford U.

PALO ALTO, Cal., Nov. 5.—The underdogs had another good day Saturday when several of them rose up and smote their supposedly superior gridiron foes. The most notable upset was Michigan's defeat of Illinois. Zuppke's team was supposed to be just about the class of the Midwest teams and Michigan's triumph illustrates just how uncertain the outcome of gridiron battles can be.

In baseball, the tailenders quite often defeat the leaders, and football is getting to be about as uncertain a game as the national game. Michigan's win shows that their sophomores are improving rapidly, even without the coaching of Yost.

On the coast, Stanford's defeat by the University of Southern California was about the only upset, if it could be called such. Coast critics and sport writers had led the public to believe that Stanford was a couple of touchdowns better than their Southern rivals, but Howard Jones' team played as perfect a game of football as I have ever seen, and while Stanford did show more ground-gaining ability, this was more than offset by many costly fumbles. Stanford's defeat leaves the University of California and Southern California the only unbeaten teams in Conference games.

Three Teams Stand Out.

From this distance, it looks as though the Army, Georgetown and Carnegie Tech are the best in the East. All, however, may meet their Waterloo in one of the next three week-ends.

Pittsburg must be pretty good to defeat Syracuse so decisively when it is recalled that Syracuse put up an even battle against the strong Nebraska team a couple of weeks ago. The latter team continues to show great strength and should be a tough opponent for the Army, Nov. 24.

In the South, Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt kept up their winning form and these two teams look to be the best in that section.

In the Southwest, Southern Methodist, the team which the Army defeated by only one point, seems to be leading the way, while in the Rocky Mountain section Utah barely nosed out Colorado College to retain the Conference lead.

Teams Closely Matched.

The results of games throughout the country show how much more the forward and lateral passes are being used—how closely the teams are matched in every section and how difficult it is to keep a team at its highest point of efficiency for every week-end contest.

There appears to be no doubt that a football team can be very good on one Saturday and very very bad the next. To keep their teams good every Saturday is the toughest job football coaches have. Overconfidence ruins the records of more good teams than any other one factor and it is no wonder that many football coaches get the reputation of being pessimists.

Yale to Oppose
Georgia in Game
In South in '29

By the Associated Press.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 5.—For the first time in the history of Yale, a football team will travel to the South, with Georgia being given the second date on the 1929 schedule in which the Elis will help dedicate a new stadium at Athens, Ga. It was announced last night by R. W. Goss, manager. Yale accepted the trip after an offer made by academic and athletic officials.

It has been the policy of Yale to play seven home games and one game away with Princeton and Harvard, alternatively. The last occasion a Yale football team played a game other than with Princeton or Harvard away from New Haven was in 1925 when Brown's stadium was dedicated in Providence. Georgia now has been retained for seven consecutive years in which time they have won only once.

Only one new college was placed on next year's schedule, Vermont replacing Maine on the opening date, Oct. 5. It will be the fourth time Vermont has come here, the last time being in 1921. The game with Princeton will be played here Nov. 16 and Harvard will be met at Cambridge the following week.

The schedule: Oct. 5, Vermont; Oct. 12, Georgia at Athens; Oct. 19, Brown; Oct. 26, Army; Nov. 2, Dartmouth; Nov. 9, Maryland; Nov. 16, Princeton; Nov. 23, Harvard at Cambridge.

ANGELICAS WIN
SECOND GAME IN MUNY CIRCUIT

The Angelicas, champions of the Municipal Soccer Association last season, continued their winning ways in the present competition, yesterday, when they defeated the Russells, 4 to 1, in a game at Fairgrounds No. 2. The title winners now have captured two contests, scoring a total of eight goals, whereas the opposition has been stopped with one. This seems to indicate that the eleven will again be an important factor for the championship. The real test for the team will come next Sunday, when the eleven faces the Schulzes, another undefeated eleven, in the feature group battle.

McManus, one of the star forwards of the Angelicas, is giving all the other players a hot run for scoring honors. In the two games played to date, he has pounded five shots through the uprights.

However, there were other features in yesterday's play in the various parks. At Carondelet No. 1, for instance, there was the battle between St. Thomas and the South Sides. Both had won their first tilt. The South Sides added new players during the week, but this was not enough to win, inasmuch as the St. Thomas team, last season's group winner, came through with a 3 to 2 triumph. It was a close battle from start to finish, with Maguire scoring the goal which finally decided the battle in favor of his team.

The Trumbulls went into first place in Carondelet No. 2 by handing the Garretts a 5 to 2 trouncing. It was a heavy scoring day, inasmuch as the teams ran up a total of 53 goals.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. The alkali kills acid instantly. The alkali is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 10 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere. Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

MISSOURI TRAINMEN INDOORSE WILSON ON LABOR RECORD

Democratic Candidate for Governor Defended Eight-Hour Law, Says Statement.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 5.—Indorsement of Francis M. Wilson, Democratic nominee for Governor, for his labor record was contained in a statement issued today by Earl W. Jenkins of this city, secretary and State representative of the Missouri Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Asserting that the brotherhood is a nonpartisan organization, Jenkins said it was its policy in legislative matters "to support our friends."

The statement: "Francis M. Wilson has a labor record 100 per cent. In a letter sent out to the members of the Brotherhood and the Ladies Auxiliary to the B. of R. T. attention was called to the fact that Mr. Wilson in 1911, as State Senator from the Third District, advocated and secured the passage of the semi-monthly pay day law, inspector of safety appliances, standard caboose and full crew laws. He also supported an act to abolish convict labor and a progressive child labor law.

"As United States District Attorney at Kansas City, Mr. Wilson received complaints from railroad employees that some of the railroads were not observing the eight-hour law (Adamson act). He immediately proceeded against these companies and the case was tried through to the Supreme Court of the United States and the law sustained. This was the first proceeding under the Adamson law."

FIVE CARD PLAYERS HELD UP IN HOME

Three Men Get Into House of Bert Cook by Posing as Detectives.

A card game at the home of Bert Cook, 3501 Franklin avenue, early yesterday, was interrupted by a knock on the door.

"Who's there?" asked Cook.

"Detectives," was the reply.

Cook opened the door, and in walked three men, one with drawn revolver, another with a piece of gas pipe. They robbed the players as follows: Cook, $20; Orla Eaver, $3; Raymond Miller, $5; Thomas McNeal, $5, and Grover Brown, $40.

Robbers Held Up Watchman, Open Safe, Find It Empty.

Three men held up Van Vandervoort, night watchman at the Hesse Envelope Co., 4175 North Kings-highway, last night, compelled him to lie in a corner, hammered open a safe and found it empty.

David Parker, 5895 Clemens avenue, driving on Page avenue near Walton road early yesterday gave a lift to a white man and a Negro. They slugged him, and when he regained consciousness he was lying beside the road, robbed of his Cadillac phaeton and $55.

Three Negroes who slugged him with a lead pipe took $35 from Michael Murphy, 8226 Reilly avenue, near his home last night.

Goebel Williamson, a visitor from Paducah, Ky., was held up on Washington boulevard west of Grand boulevard early today and robbed of his watch, $45 topcoat and $54.

Mr. Agnes Vorderitch, 2716 Blair avenue, was held up near her home and robbed of $30.

Two youths were arrested on the Municipal Bridge yesterday afternoon because their pockets bulged with candy and cigarettes, which they admitted having stolen from a refreshment stand near Vandalia, Ill. They said they were John E. Jones of Toronto, Ont., and Roy E. Lee of Rochester, N. Y. Jones admitted he had smuggled himself into the United States and stolen five automobiles at various places, abandoning them when the gasoline was depleted.

A steamer trunk and a traveling bag containing church vestments valued at $250 were stolen last night from the parked automobile of the Rev. Charles Elin, a missionary, visiting the Rev. James C. Murray at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Twenty-fifth and University streets. An hour later the loot was returned and placed at the rear of the rectory.

John Scarbrough, 22 years old, 2940 Arlington avenue, was arrested yesterday and identified by the store manager as one of three men who held up a Kroger store at 4754 Jennings road, Saturday. One of the men, Vernon Price, was captured after he ran from the store and engaged in a pistol fight with a Deputy Sheriff and two citizens. Police reported, finding in an automobile at Scarbrough's home an overcoat bearing Price's name and 40 quarters, also $17 concealed in Scarbrough's left shoe.

TODAY ENDS FIRST PART OF CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW
Shaw's Garden Will Reopen Thursday for Exhibit of Florists' Association.

Today is the last day of the "preliminary" chrysanthemum show at Shaw's Garden. Tomorrow and Wednesday the garden will be closed to the public while the displays are being rearranged for the exhibit of the St. Louis Florists' Association, which will open Thursday at 1 p. m. and continue through Sunday. After Thursday, the show will be open to the public from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Yesterday about 10,000 persons visited the garden, including several delegations of public and parochial school children. Saturday had been set aside as a special day for the school children but bad weather kept many away. After the florists' show the next feature will be the annual chrysanthemum exhibit, which will start Nov. 14.

Mary, I am going to rent a First National Safe Deposit Box today

"You know Jones' house was robbed last night, while they were at the movies, and Harry insisted before leaving town this morning that I rent a box today in both our names, for the valuable papers which we have been carelessly keeping at home. It is ridiculous to worry about such matters when you can rent a Safe Deposit Box of your own at the First National, for only $5.00 a year.

Harry does all his banking there and so does his firm but he has just neglected to rent a box. He tells me they have a splendid Safe Deposit Department, and that I will find them very accommodating.

It's only a short distance from here, and I'll be back before you have finished your shopping."

Thousands of St. Louis women find the Safe Deposit and Storage facilities at the "First" convenient and pleasant

DOMESTIC DIALOGUES

By Frances Olivier

WHERE BROOK AND RIVER
MEET

HUSBAND—Just to think Junior graduating from college next year! College! (A few moments of silent reverie.) The happied days of a boy's life. . . Did I ever tell you, Alice, that I delivered the valedictory at our high school graduation out in Sandy point? I remember there was a paraphrase in it that brought tears to everybody's eyes. . . "Life is just something like a tree. . . "Life is just something like a tree, its roots buried deep in eternity, and as the tree grows upward toward the skies, nearer and nearer to man's ideal. . . "

Wife—I shouldn't wonder.
Husband—Nearer and nearer to man's ideal. . . what was that you said then, Alice?
Wife—Nothing, dear, not a thing.
Husband—"Life is like a tree, its roots buried deep in eternity, and as the tree grows upward toward the skies, nearer and nearer to man's ideal. . . " Dammit I must have something wrong with my liver, Alice.

Wife—I was wondering what the result could be.
Husband—Don't be sarcastic,
Alice. My memory's been falling as quite a lot lately—it must be my liver! But I surely would like to be able to recall that valedictory of mine. I wonder if it could be among those old papers. By the way, where'd you put that old clock, Alice?

Wife—Oh, up in the attic somewhere among the trunks.
Husband—I'm going right up and dig for it. I can't let a thing like that slip me. (And with a sneak as near to a bound as a fat man of 50 can achieve he is off!)

Wife—What that attic's going to look like now is nobody's business!
I hope he doesn't see those fishing boots.

(Crash, bang, crash, shatter,
crash, scrape, screech, following each other in rapid succession.)
Wife (in a hysterical high C)—
For heaven's sake, George, what are you doing up there? You're making the whole neighborhood!

Husband—I'm reaching some poetry.
(A little later peace and quiet reign over all, but not for long.
George's footfalls are heard taking to stairs two at a time, amid the whir of his own shouts. "Alice,
I've found it! Alice, I've missed my vacation." He comes into the living-room panting and shining sweat.) Just you drop that cheap magnifying for a minute, Alice, and let me read you something worth hearing. I tell you I never dreamed I could write such stuff—and me wasting away my life in the woolen business (He is carrying a bulky bag.) This is my diary, Alice, and I just want you to listen to something a minute.

Wife (with one eye on her movie magazine)—All right, dear, go ahead.

Husband (breathless, stammering, declaiming):
From falcon creatures we descend.

That thereby beauty's rose might never die,
But as the ripper should by time decrease.

His tender hair might bear his memory.

But thou, contracted to thine
own bright eyes,
Feed'st thy light's flame with self-substantial fuel.

Making a famine where abundant lies,
Thou thyself dost feed thy eye,
Too late to rue.

I tell you, Alice, my parents should've done something about it. It's a shame. But it's too late now. Why, I could no more do a thing like this now than I could!

Wife—It certainly is wonderful.
George!

Husband—Here, just listen to this, will you?

These that are now the world's fresh ornament,
And only herald to the gaudy
spring.

Within thine own buduriest
thy content,
And, tender churl, mak'st waste in niggarding.

Prey the world, or else this garden be.

To eat the world's due, by the grave and thee.

(He is silent for a moment. An expression of deep puzzlement comes over his brow. He mumbles to himself.) Gee, there's something about the matter here, somewhere. I remember how that could've happened.

Wife—Well, why don't you go and ask him?

Husband—Well, I guess I didn't write that one. I got here at the end of it "Shakespeare." (He puts down the ledger and walks soberly toward the window.) That was a very one all right, wasn't it?

Wife (laughingly)—I thought all that sounded familiar!

BEAU BRUMMEL AND HANDSOMEST
OF PRESENT DAY KINGS—ZOGU I

Picturesque Young Ruler of Albania Has Two Thousand Costumes and Never Wears the Same Uniform Twice.

EUROPE'S newest and youngest King, His Majesty Zogu I of Albania, is by far the handsomest of reigning monarchs.

Back in his student days, divided between Paris and Constantinople,
he had the reputation already of a shelk, whose fluttering eyelashes were sufficient to cause women to fall in love with him. In addition to smooth and symmetrical features, deep blue eyes and a musical voice, the new King is a fancy dresser, who needs not take second place even to the Prince of Wales.
King Zogu possesses a wardrobe of fabulous extent and gorge-ousness. There are fancy national costumes of every rural region of his domain, in addition to gala uniforms, state robes and classic garments, coming to the impressive total of 2000 costumes.

The King never appears twice in

ZOGU
THE NEW KING OF ALBANIA AND HIS SISTERS

the same uniform. And each uniform is more splendid than the other. On the day when Parliament proclaimed him King of Albania, he was fitted in a spotless
white tunic with gold braid, tight-fitting pink velvet breeches, a busby of fox fur, while over his shoulders was flung a broad mantle of scarlet hue.

A FIRM of Parisian haberdash-ers worked for months designing plans and executing models for the King's coronation robes, which are calculated to impress the Albanians to such an extent that opposition against the new King among the aristocratic landholders of the small kingdom will wither like snow before the midday sun.

Not only Albania but also Italy
and Jugoslavia and the whole Balkans are anxiously awaiting the outcome of the coronation of Zogu.
For the new King has many enemies in the Balkan states looks with favor upon the strengthening of Italian power on the other side of the Adriatic.

To the Jugo-Slavs Zogu is just a puppet in Mussolini's hands and Albania a vassal kingdom of the King of the Roman Emperors maintained all over the known world to drag the chestnuts out of the fire for them. Italian officers are training the Albanian Army and Italian engineers are superintending the construction of military railways from the Albanian coast to the interior.

With Zogu King in name only in Albania, the kingdom's territory becomes the vanguard of Italian influence, projected into the Balkan maze. With Italian battleships anchored in Durazzo and other Albanian ports, Jugo-Slavia is completely bottled up and has lost her access to the Mediterranean. Italian hegemony has now been firmly established on both sides of the Adriatic.

THERE are even rumors that Zogu is to marry one of the royal Italian Princesses, in token of the close alliance between his country and Mussolini's, but this may be vain gossip. The Italian Princesses have been reported engaged over and over again, respectively to the Belgian Crown Prince,
the Prince of Wales and King Boris of Bulgaria. Whatever the statesmen plan does not seem to bother the daughters of King Victor a great deal. So far the two oldest girls have managed to marry the men they wanted, in both instances minor nobles.

Zogu's greatest enemy, the man who has forced him to remain indoors for the past two years, is the Rajah Chahaj, a picturesque Albanian mountaineer, the head of one of the oldest families in the country and chief of the Albanian Republican party. This man has more followers than Zogu. He is so powerful that he forced the Prince of Wied, the Kaiser's preferred choice for the throne of Albania, to decamp and stay away.
He is now concentrating his energy on Zogu. And if it were not that

Zogu is backed by the Italian Government the King-breaking Rajah would have forced him out of the country ere this.

An indication of the relentless battle that the Republican Rajah intends to wage against the new King is contained in the reported words of King Zogu on the day when he was elevated to the royal power. "If my enemy came with guns and bombs I would not fear him, but I fear the assassin's poison, the attack in the dark and the stab in the back."

In addition to the personal enmity of the powerful chief, Zogu is faced with a vexatious religious problem. The population of Albania is half Christian and half Mohammedan. Both sections are desirous that Zogu come over to their respective sides. As it is, he is by upbringing a Moslem. But in order to placate the Christian section of the population he commenced the idea of assuming the title of Skanderbeg III, the name of the early Christian Kings of the country.

Skanderbeg's crown, scepter and sword, however, are on view in the Vienna historical museum. Zogu went to Vienna in company of two of his ministers, kissed the crown and the sword and pleaded with the Viennese authorities to let him have the precious symbols, which would, he felt, heighten his prestige and insure the greater tranquility of Southeastern Europe.

Die-hard Socialists that they are,
the Viennese city fathers, refused to be party to a King-making enterprise. The result was that Zogu abandoned the plan of assuming Skanderbeg's title.

One of the curious features about Italy's present favorable attitude is the fact that the same Zogu was chased out of Albania in 1924 by an Italian army. His partisan warfare, as he crossed the frontier into Serbia were: "Italy chases me, but I see the day coming when Italy will call me back."

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Emilie Hoffman.

HAS food-fussing become a habit in your home? This seems to be the case nowadays in most homes where there are children.
There are various reasons for this,
but it is probably safe to say that parents, themselves, are largely to blame for this condition.

If, as soon as a child began eating, this was treated as a matter of course and no comments on food ever made at the table, this child would just naturally eat what is given him. Even then there may occasionally be an article of food that a child will take a dislike to.
In such a case it is a mistake to force the child to eat that food. If it is something that is essential to health, explain that there are certain foods we must learn to like.
Preparing the same article in a different form may appeal to the child's taste.

The average child likes to be noticed, and when he can get the attention of the family by refusing a food he will not usually miss the opportunity. If there is a guest or you are guests elsewhere, he knows you will talk about his "dreadful eating habits" and how it worries
you, and that makes him feel important. So he enacts the scene.

One lad invariably says "No" when asked, "Will you have milk tonight?" but if the milk is placed at his plate he will drink it unconsciously. He does the same with other foods. A mother who is greatly worried about the diet of her little daughter has a habit of suggesting her doubt whether the child is going to eat or not, and the young miss has the habit of refusing the food offered whenever this occurs.

If a child happens to take a food
he usually refuses, instead of ignoring the fact a general exclamation of surprise will follow—the average child will not overcome prejudices against foods under such conditions.

There are mothers who cater to the child's taste by providing special food, and they will excuse the act by saying the child is finicky about eating. In one family where there are four children it often happens that the mother must prepare five different kinds of meat at one meal to satisfy each child and the grown-ups.

Often elms of the parents dislike a food and it is made noticeable by comments—they forget that children are prone to imitate their elders.

All mothers do not serve foods as attractively as they can, and in some families it is customary to give too large quantities of foods.
Either of these conditions will put a damper on the appetite.

The mother who allows her children to eat between meals is putting a check on their appetite at meal time, and children who are permitted to eat the dessert first because they like it, cannot be expected to eat a nourishing dinner,
no matter how good it is.

In some families it is customary to make the children clear the plate, and force is frequently resorted to in order to accomplish this. The refusal of food by children often creates an unpleasant scene when the mother attempts to make them eat. This arouses feelings that completely destroy the appetite and makes eating impossible. This is the natural effect of all emotions such as fear, anger, worry, etc. If a child is forced to eat under these conditions he cannot properly digest the food.

Because spinach is recommended for children and custard is a nourishing dessert a mother served these four times a week to her children with the result that every child in that family has a positive aversion to spinach and custard.
If you are guilty of any of these mentioned acts the fault largely lies with you if your child will not eat.

Kitchen Conveniences

KITCHENS should be conveniently arranged. Carefully study yours, and see if the working centers are properly placed. Can you stand in one place and reach for various cooking utensils and ingredients from shelves and cupboards? Can you work at the sink and place foods on a nearby table? Can you be seated or stand at a table with sufficient space underneath for comfort?

Are the hooks, towel racks and shelves within easy reach? Is the ice pick hung near the icebox?
Is your sink too low? If it is,
make a small wooden rack to place under utensils when working at the sink. This will prevent backaches and general fatigue.

If you do not have linoleum on your kitchen floor, place rugs
where you do the most standing.

Study kitchen plans and actually follow your own footsteps in your work and see if you can make more efficient that part of your home.

To clean stained glass vases, add tea-leaves and warm water. Let stand for several hours and then wash out in hot soap suds.

WASHING the face at least once daily in this way is concededly the most important beauty rule of the day.

But only a soap of Nature's beauty oils—those of olive and palm—will cleanse the skin thoroughly and gently at the same time. Such a soap is Palmolive.

Scrubbing the face is too harsh for delicate skin fabric. Use Nature's way—your two hands,
and gently massage the creamy Palmolive lather thoroughly into your skin.

Thus pores release their daily accumulation of grime and cosmetics. Thus skin is kept smooth and velvety—girlhood's charm retained.

Then rinse the face—first with warm, then with colder water.
And dry by gently patting the skin with a soft towel. Last of all, a dab of cold cream to guard against dryness. That's Nature's rule. It's simple, but a week will prove its value to your skin.

Be sure you get Palmolive—
that's important. Everywhere—10c a cake.
